

Door blamed for airplane mishap at Metro

Investigators blamed a faulty door for a midair incident in which an American Airlines DC 10 was badly damaged but managed to make it safely back to Detroit's Metropolitan Airport Monday night.

First reports indicated the air blast, which ripped the tail section of the huge Los Angeles to New York plane, might have been caused by an explosive.

The 56 passengers and 11 crew members all escaped serious injury as the jet ran off a runway during an emergency landing.

After hours of investigation by FBI agents, Wayne County sheriff's officers and airline personnel, the incident was blamed on a faulty door which opened in flight.

George A. Warde, executive vice president and general manager of the airline, said in a statement issued at the company's New York headquarters:

"A thorough investigation by a company maintenance and engineering team assembled at Detroit Metropolitan Airport has determined that a cargo door in the lower part of the fuselage below the passenger cabin opened when the airplane was at about 12,000 feet altitude after having left Detroit en route to Buffalo although signal lights in the cockpit indicated the cargo door and all other doors were closed and latched normally.

"Because the airplane was pressurized, a decompression, which allowed sound, occurred. During the night we have inspected the cargo compartments of all our DC 10's and have found them to be functioning properly." American Airlines and McDonald Douglass, manufacturers of the DC 10, are conducting a thorough investigation to determine what caused the malfunction of the door on Flight 96. The National Transportation Safety Board also is investigating the incident.

Investigators said that when the door opened, some of the cargo—including a coffin—tumbled out.

The cockpit and body were recovered just east of Windsor.

The plane, carrying a total of 56 passengers and 11 crewmen, was bound from Los Angeles to Buffalo to New York City.

Allan Aikins, an airline spokesman, said the explosion was reported at 7:29 p.m. as the plane reached an altitude of 12,000 feet over Windsor, Ont.

Aikins said the plane's captain, Bryce E. McCormick of Los Angeles, brought the plane down at 7:44 p.m. on the airport's main runway after he had shut off plane's three engines.

Wayne County sheriff's deputy Sgt. Robert Ruelle said the plane landed without rudder.

horizontal stabilizer, the mechanism that keeps the craft level in the air.

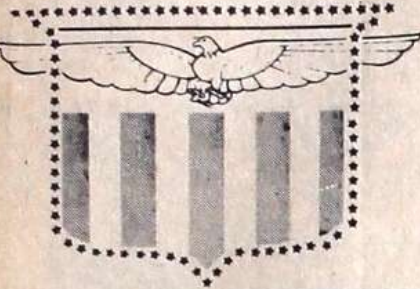

Ruelle added the pilot had no radio contact with the airport as he touched down.

"How the hell he got that plane down is beyond me," Ruelle said of Capt. McCormick. "He must be one hell of a pilot."

The plane skidded off the end of the 2,700-foot runway and came to a stop in a field near Goddard Road. The passengers were evacuated by means of six emergency shutles, three on each side on the plane.

Aikins said most of the passengers injuries were incurred during their evacuation.

Taxes stabilized with new budget

By HENRY CANTIN

A proposed 1972-73 general operating fund budget tentatively has been approved by the Romulus City Council.

A public hearing on the proposed budget is scheduled for June 27 in the city clerk's chambers. The budget is now available for public inspection in the city clerk's office.

Under the proposed budget, department heads will receive an annual salary boost of $500 each. Non-union employees consisting of three secretaries and the deputy city clerk will receive pay increases ranging from $500 to $800, which are subject to U.S. Pay Board approval. These employees have received 5.5 per cent pay hikes allowed union-covered employees.

A union-city contract covering 40 to 50 city employees was approved by the council in April. The three-year contract provides for wage and salary boosts of 13 per cent for the first year and six per cent the second and third year. Raises in excess of a 5.5 per cent hike

Incumbents ousted in vote

The new budget does not call for any increase in the city's current property tax assessment and provides for annual wage and salary increases for department heads and non-union employees.

The city's current tax levy for city operation is 5.50 mills ($5.50 per $1,000 assessed property valuation, state equalized.

City Assessor Harold L. Reiner was ordered by city council to prepare to levy the 5.50 mills pursuant to the provision of the city charter, subject to final approval of the budget by the city council after the public hearing.

The proposed budget calls for total expenditures of $6,451,546 for the new fiscal year, which begins July 1. This is an increase of $340,415 over the total expenditures of $6,111,131 in the 1971-72 fiscal year.

The total property tax levy is 12.50 mills ($12.50 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized. This includes 5.50 mills for city operations, three mills for water and sewer service and four mills for debt retirement.

The total budget expenditure includes $2,697,071 for city operation, up from $2,310,095 last year, a local and major street budget of $623,500, as against $361,050 last year, motor vehicle budget, $294,975, compared to $299,700 last year, and a water and service budget of $2,837,000, as against $3,141,286 last year when Romulus assumed maintenance and road repair previously performed by the Wayne County Road Commission.

Voters of the Romulus Community School District elected two new school board members in the annual school election held on Monday and ousted the two incumbents.

The school district's electorate also defeated a proposal calling for a one mill ($1) tax levy to finance the construction of four vocational-technical training centers in Wayne County. It also was defeated on a county-wide basis.

An advisory vote proposition asking voters if they favor court-ordered, cross-district busing was overwhelmingly rejected by a vote of 1,241-47.

Defeated in the school election were two school board incumbents seeking reelection to four-year terms. The winners and their vote totals are: Jack A. Bath, 33, of 32115 Bruce St., Romulus, with 682 votes, and Hulen Yates 33, of 15555 Colbert St., Romulus, 648 votes.

Incumbents Davis B. Draper, 61, of 11019 Elm-Romulus, received 628 votes, while Gervazio Canejo, 42, of 16321 Dodge St., Romulus, got 627.

The vote results on the vocational-technical question were 694 against to 503 in favor of the proposal.

The new school board will assume its duties in July 10, when its annual organizational session is held. Bath, who has been a Romulus resident for the last eight years, was making his first bid for the school board. He is active in the Hayti Elementary School PTA, the Romulus Democratic Club, Romulus Kiwanis Club and the Romulus Homeowners Association.

He has served in various capacities in these organizations. He also has served on the Romulus Board of Appeals and is presently on the executive board of the Community United For Action (CUFA). Bath and his wife, Anne, are the parents of three children.

Yates was making his second bid for the school board. In 1971, when he first ran for the school board, he was defeated by a narrow margin.

Yates is a member of the Merriman Elementary School PTA, the Romulus Democratic Club and the Romulus Homeowners Association. He has served as vice-president of the Romulus Democratic Club and was elected a precinct delegate in the presidential primary election.

The defeat of incumbent Draper brings to an end an era of service on the school board that began in 1959. Draper is currently a member of the Romulus Planning Commission. He is a construction cost estimator with the steel division of Ford Motor Co.

He has been a Romulus resident for the last 34 years and has been active in various Romulus organizations. Canejo, who was elected to the school board in 1967 was seeking his third term on the school board. He owns and operates of the Canejo Trucking Co. of Romulus, a rubbish collection firm.

HCMA park officials refute chief's blasts

By HENRY CANTIN

Charges of not providing an adequate park police force and other security measures at the Lower Huron Metropolitan Park Monday were strenuously refuted Monday by officials of the Huron - Clinton Park Authority. The authority owns and operates the Lower Huron Metropolitan Park, which occupies a portion of Huron Township.

The authority also owns and operates eight other parks located in Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

The charges and other criticism against the park authority were made by Huron Township Police Chief Christopher Maciolek on June 2. Chief Maciolek criticized the park administration for allegedly creating attendance problems and other law enforcement difficulties.

Lower Huron Metropolitan Park also is located near the City of Belleville and Van Buren Township and is used by residents from these communities as well as all of Metropolitan Detroit.

James J. Pompo, deputy director of the HCMA, charged Maciolek's complaints were "completely unfounded and uncalled for."

"Being a governmental agency, we try to cooperate with all the units of government we are involved with. We realize they have cooperated with us and we have with them. The statements of the police chief are completely unfounded and uncalled for," Pompo said.

Voters return Huron incumbents to board

Huron School District voters re-elected two incumbent school board members to new four-year terms in Monday's school election.

On the proposal to adopt an area vocational-technical education program, the school district's voters approved the proposal by a vote of 293-263. The proposal, however, was defeated county-wide.

Re-elected to the board were Leopold Betz, 46, of 19031 Savage Rd., Belleville, and Leo Kyko, 48, of 18904 Hannan Rd., New Boston.

A third candidate seeking a school board seat was Olaf S. McDavid, 46, of 30362 West Road, New Boston, who ran a poor third in the school board race.

Unofficial vote returns gave Betz a vote total of 473, Kyko 466 votes and McDavid, 185.

Betz was seeking his first four-year term. He ran for trustee in 1971 to fill an unexpired term and was elected.

Speech program planned

The Huron School District will again have a summer speech and language program.

The program will cover a five-week period which begins today (Wednesday) and ends July 20. The program will be conducted by Charles Unseld and Mrs. Susan Puscheck.

Parents of pre-school children who are concerned about possible speech and language problems should contact Mrs. Puscheck at 753-4421.

Parents concerned about stuttering, difficulties with sounds, or a delay in language development can contact Mrs. Puscheck for an evaluation appointment.

Kyko won his second four-year term on the school board in Monday's election. He was first elected to the board in 1968 and had been appointed to serve for one year prior to his first election.

McDavid was making his second bid for the school board. In 1971, he also was defeated.

The vocational-technical education question called for the assessment of one mill ($1) per $1,000 of assessed property valuation, state equalized, to finance the construction of four vocational-technical training centers in Wayne County.

The centers would have been operated by the Wayne County Intermediate School District to provide training in 40 occupational areas.

The vote by precincts was as follows: Precinct 1 — Betz, 245; Kyko, 242; and McDavid, 95.

Marijuana charges brought against four

Huron Township police smashed a source of marijuana supply for the area with the arrest of four young men Saturday night.

The men were arrested in the act of preparing and packaging marijuana in a condemned building in Huron Township and on property owned by Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority. Police Chief Christopher Maciolek reported Monday.

Arraigned Sunday morning before 17th District Court Judge Frank Brang of Redford were:

Johnny W. Frye, 17, of 37269 Huron River Dr., New Boston;

Richard B. Hamley, 17, of 36952 Huron River Dr., New Boston; Daniel K. Wasilenski, 17, of 22550 Bell Rd., New Boston; and Johnny Tomlin, 21, of 34278 Marquette Dr., Westland.

The court entered pleas of not guilty for the four defendants and scheduled their pre-trial examination tomorrow (Thursday) before Judge James B. Stone of the 34th District Court in Romulus. Bonds of $5,000 were set by the court.

Chief Maciolek reported his officers received an anonymous telephone call from someone reporting "she discovered a large amount of marijuana in a condemned building in Huron Township."

Dt. Donald Sands, accompanied by Ptl. John Maier and John Cady and Chief Maciolek, went to the scene.

The police chief said when he and his officers arrived and went inside the building they found the four defendants allegedly preparing "marijuana" for packaging. The marijuana was strung up on a clothes line drying. It "had been harvested from a nearby area."

The four were charged with possession of marijuana with intent to sell. The charge upon conviction carries a maximum penalty of four years in jail.

Chief Maciolek reported the four admitted the possession charge and showed the officers where they were growing the marijuana.

The police chief added he contacted authorities at the Lower Huron Metropolitan Park to make arrangements to destroy the growing marijuana.

He reported his officers confiscated four large plastic bags of marijuana from the premises.

Police are endeavoring to determine the street value of the confiscated marijuana.

Residents hear school candidates

School Board candidates and community residents met Thursday night at the Romulus Civic Center to discuss platforms and ideas reflected in the race for the two open positions on the Romulus School Board.

Candidates present were Jack Bath, Gervazio Canejo and Davis B. Draper. Hulen Yates, also a candidate, could not be present due his work schedule.

The event, sponsored by the Romulus Jaycees, was moderated by Jaycee Terry Wood of radio station WCHB. Wood introduced each candidate and then gave time to each to state his qualifications and desires for the position.

After presentations, the candidates began the question and answer period by responding to a question from Wood. Each then answered many questions from the audience.

While the answers are far too extensive to be presented here, the topics discussed were: busing, responsibilities and limitations of the power of the board, communities' housing developments versus school availability, budge policies and their review, dress codes and discipline, teachers and their qualifications, student involvement in decision making and personal changes the candidates would like to make.

In addition to the candidates speaking, time was taken to discuss the other issues on the ballot — busing referendum and vocational program support.

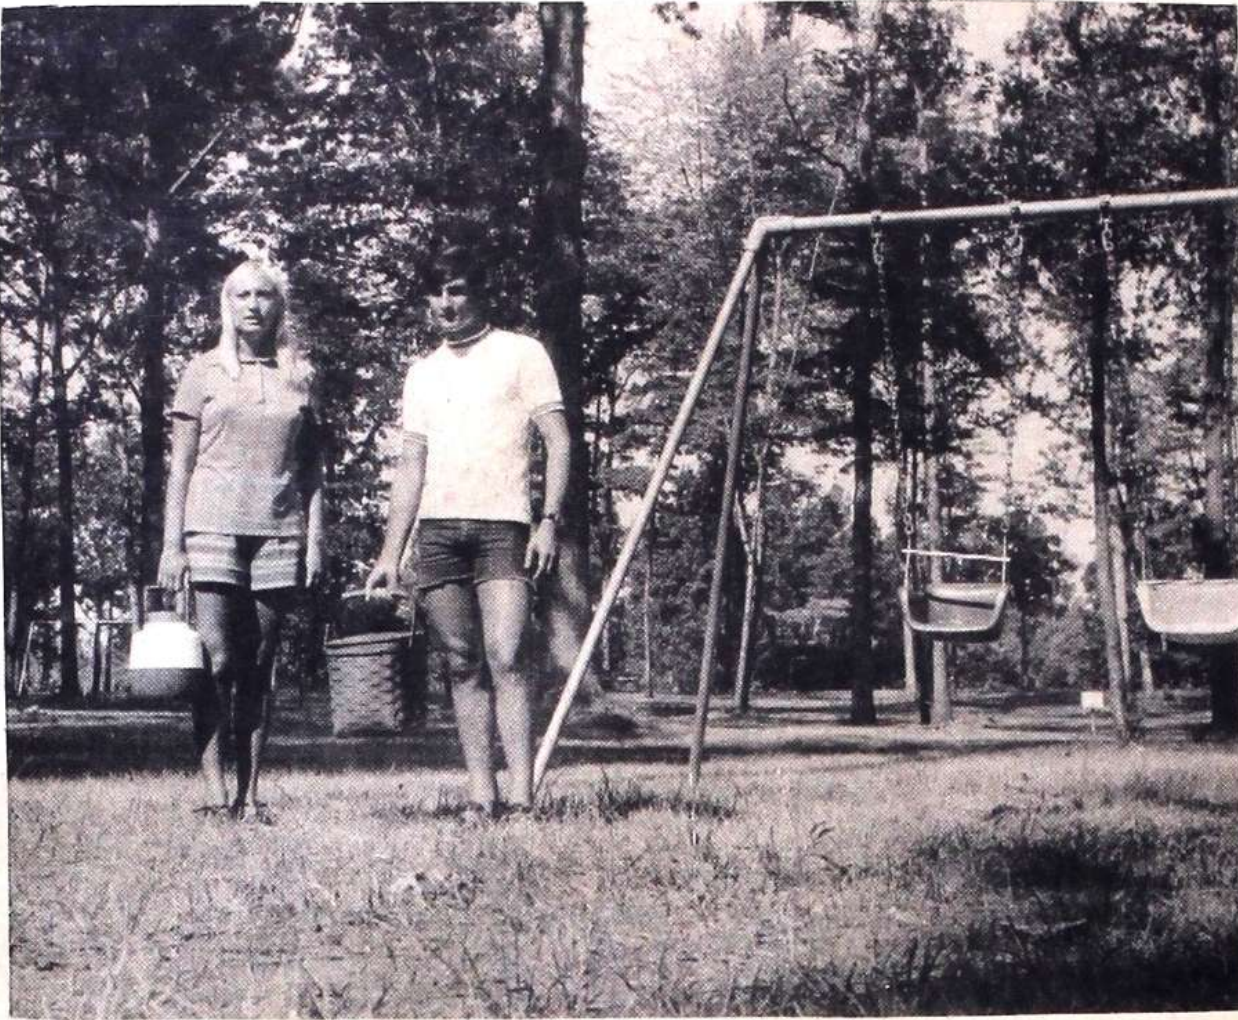

Carl W. Morris, board president, also spoke on the vocational programs which will be on the ballot. He indicated the strong need for such programs and explained the financing structure which will be used.

Driver ed class slated

Summer Driver Education Training will begin tomorrow (Thursday) at Huron Senior High School in New Boston.

The classes will run for three weeks from 8 to 10 a.m. Students who will be 16 by Dec. 31 should enroll for the summer program.

Driving will be arranged after classes begin.

PERKY PICNICKERS — This twosome is all set for a picnic in the wooded areas of Willow Metropolitan Park, southeast of New Boston. Ready for their outing are Miss Jan Kyko, 20, of 18904 Hannan Rd., New Boston, and Jerry Shulman, 18, of 19232 Starlane, Southfield, Willow Metropolitan Park is one of nine southeastern Michigan parks operated by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority. The park primarily offers picnicking at present, since only limited public use is available.

Consumers to phase out appliance sales activities

Consumers Power Co. has begun to phase out its 50 year old appliance sales activities.

W. Anson Hedgecock, vice president for divisions and customer services, said, "The changing role of this venture in recent years has led to diminishing returns on the investment. Moreover, there are plenty of appliance dealers throughout the company's service area in a market which was once served principally by the company."

Consumers Power will continue to service appliances which are under warranty, and will continue its appliance repair services, Hedgecock said. Most employees now active in sales are to be offered other assignments, or otherwise absorbed by attrition.

The company began its appliance sales operation more than 50 years ago when appliances were not readily available through the dealership systems commonly found today. At that time, Hedgecock said, the Consumers Power sales organization was one of very few in the business of retailing appliances.

"Since World War II and the subsequent advent of modern retailing and distribution, the appliance business has become much broader-based. It is no longer an essential service which the company is obliged to maintain," he said.

Consumers has 72 retail stores located in its lower peninsula service area.

Board approves use of facilities

The Van Buren Board of Education has approved the use of school facilities for the summer recreation programs sponsored by the Van Buren Township Recreation Department.

In granting its approval, the school board informed Recreation Director William Loyd the recreation department would be required to provide or pay for one custodian at each evening activity and to furnish a certificate of insurance and protect the interest of the Van Buren Public School District.

School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz reported to the school board the summer recreation program offered by the township this year is, in his opinion, "one of the best the township has ever had."

He added that as long as the school property is properly used, "We are all for more cooperation between the schools and recreation departments."

Huron teacher retires

Mrs. Bessie Trochet of New Boston has retired from the teaching staff of the Huron School District after 37 years of teaching.

The staff at the Hannan Road Elementary School honored Mrs. Trochet at a retirement party held last Monday, June 12.

Mrs. Trochet, who was born in Wayne County 65 years ago, taught her first year in Lenawee County. She then moved to a one-room school house where she taught all grades, kindergarten through the eighth grade.

She came to the Huron School District in 1956, and has been with the district for the last 16 years, teaching the first grade.

Officials refute charges

Statistics presented Monday by both Pompo and George H. Giblin, park superintendent, disclosed the park police have offered more assistance to the township than it had received from the local police force. Statistics also indicated the authority does not have the township police department's assistance for the park area, as claimed by Chief Maciolek. "We are receptive to constructive criticism and comments we feel warrant implementation in our park system," Pompo said.

The park authority employs nine park rangers in Lower Huron Metropolitan Park. The rangers have been deputized by both Huron and Van Buren Township.

Maciolek charged park officials were not providing adequate park police force to handle the many problems arising in a large park the size of Lower Huron Metropolitan Park. He stressed the fact that he was not criticizing the park rangers, but the park administration for employing "too light" a police force for the job at hand.

In replying to Maciolek's criticism, Giblin said:

"First, Lower Huron Park does not embrace 3,500 prime acres of Huron Township. It embraces 1,200 acres, about one-half of which is in Huron Township. The staff of Lower Huron Park is administratively responsible for Lower Huron, Willow and Oakwood Metropolitan Parks, but Oakwood is under construction and not open to the public. Only a portion of Willow is open to the public.

struction and not open to the public. Only a portion of Willow is open to the public.

"Therefore, we have approximately 600 acres in Lower Huron Park and 800 acres of Willow, or 1,400 acres of land in Huron Township in viable park use. Further, a portion of this is taken up by buffer zones, service areas, river, which even further reduces the useable area. This land was not 'prime land' until the park developed it. Much of the land was river flood plain and the balance was farmland."

"As to Maciolek's charge we are 'employing too light,' he is entitled to his opinion, but perhaps we could analyze the statement in more depth by our police statistical record on the activities of the park rangers."

The statistical reports as disclosed by Giblin show that in 1971 the park rangers assisted the township on 52 occasions and the park authority requested township assistance on two occasions.

In 1972 (from January to May), the park rangers assisted the township 79 times and requested help four times, including three assists from the township's fire department.

Pompo and Giblin both conferred with Township Supervisor George W. Moore and Maciolek about the statements on Monday, prior to their public refutations of the charges made by Maciolek.

Door causes plane mishap

No one was injured seriously, with most the 11, including two stewardesses, being treated and released at Wayne County General Hospital.

One of the injured, John Russ, 32, of Buffalo, said he did not hear an explosion.

"I'm not exactly sure of what I heard," he said. "I did hear a noise, but it sounded like a whoosh."

Russ, who suffered a bruised knee, said none of the passengers in his first-class cabin panicked, and all escaped without incident.

"Everybody was great," Russ said. "The stewardesses were terrific and got us off that plane pretty damn quick."

Another passenger, J. Kenneth Wylie of Springfield, Mass., said the plane filled with vapor after the explosion.

"I was just sitting there, when all of a sudden I heard this loud whoosh, and the air filled with condensation," he said.

"After that, magazines and a lot of paper flew by."

"I thought a door had blown open."

Airline officials said the plane, manufactured at a cost of $20 million by the Douglas Aircraft Co., had only been in service for a few months.

Alkins said seven of the DC-10's were in service with American, and none had previously encountered any mechanical difficulties. The plane had a seating capacity of 256, and is not quite as large as a 747.

Immediately after the plane's landing, FBI and Federal Aviation Administration agents swarmed over the airfield and sealed off the plane from the curious.

Photographers were not allowed within more than 100 yards of the craft, and the damage area was not visible from that vantage point.

FBI officials would not comment on the explosion, and agents began their investigation at once by cloaking and interviewing the passengers and crew for several hours.

The extent of the damage was not made known.

A complete roster of passengers was not immediately available, but the injured were identified as Beatrice Copeland, 26, of New York City, and Sandra McConnell, 23, of Hawthorne, N.J., the stewardesses, whose names are unknown, Victor Perez, 29, of Detroit, Durwood Anderson, 42, of Tustin, Calif., Frank Genco, 68, of Buffalo, William Heffernan, 51, of Woodland Hills, Calif., Loretta Kaminsky, 35, of Williamsport, N.Y., Joseph Veechio, 66, and his wife, Lina, 64, of Buffalo, Katherine Werner, 66, of Tonawanda, N.Y. and John Russ of Buffalo.

Legislative frustrations blossom in springtime

Springtime brings to Lansing the frustrations and disarray of a tough legislative session, but exhausted minds must fight on until the last gavel mercifully ends it all.

Their thoughts are quite often clear but they sometimes come out in untranslated Casey Stengel.

And so it is that reporters are forced to report what a legislator thinks, not what he says. Otherwise it's back to the police beat where black and white always stay that way.

House Speaker William A. Ryan (D-Detroit), who holds the modern record for freestyle monologues ("He once sponsored the Oxford dictionary and got it passed," said an aide), was a late victim.

Ryan was asked if both Republicans and Democrats who signed rival property tax relief petitions to place the issue on the Nov. 7 ballot might not feel thwarted if the legislature did the same thing. He answered: "Well, I guess if you're thwarting the will of two competing organizations none (sic) of whom are necessarily the majority of the citizens, I don't really know what you're thwarting."

He meant that one thwart cancels out another and if the legislature acts now neither Republicans nor Democrats should feel dismayed.

Legislators rarely use texts of speeches or notes and can launch into full flight at the microphone, a talent made possible with their familiarity with the issues they feel called upon to debate.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, articulate and caustic in debate, was defending industry against some of the, to him, unreasonable restrictions of an anti-pollution bill. He thundered:

"Our economy wouldn't be what it is today without pollution and waste."

Senator Stanley Novak (D-Detroit), a legislative veteran, finally got a clear explanation of a bill in debate and retorted: "I understand what's happening now and that's what I object to."

Rep. Joyce Symons (D-Allen Park) made it understandable to everyone when she said: "We have a large number of absentees here today."

And occasionally in the heat of debate an important qualifying clause gets lost in the hurry to make a point. Rep. Josephine Hunsinger (D-Detroit) had this trouble when she said:

"This is a resolution for the people of Mackinac Island. They are in desperate need of some sewage up there."

And Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ypsilanti) became embroiled in a debate over the questions being asked students in school achievement tests. He intoned:

"It's how you word some of these cotton-pickin' statements that sounds so communistic."

Those are some of the lapses but over the years a more serious kind of rhetorical shorthand has been developed — perfectly fair so long as everyone understands it.

When a legislator assumes a low profile and proposes a "clarifying amendment," its impact could range up to exempting those living north of Townline 16 from all state laws.

Legislators spend cumulative hours on the floor fencing with words, jockeying with ideas, chiding colleagues, explaining, cajoling. Out of it all come the laws of the State of Michigan.

At this time in the session, it's easy to sympathize with Rep. Richard A. Young (D-Deerborn Heights), who was confronted with a much-changed revenue-sharing bill at 10:15 in a night session.

"There are probably four people on the floor who know what this all means and I'm not one of them," he said.

But they fight on ...

Summertime is special

Summertime holds a special place in the hearts of most of us. It comes again on June 21. It is a season of movement and change.

Vacations will be coming up. There will be new places to see. Families will get together, and we will have another season's memories of picnics and swimming, grandmother's house, the seashore of Disney World.

As we seek a respite from the routines and pressures of our job and responsibilities, we should always keep with us certain essential behavioral equipment. As we pursue our vacation activities, an ever present sense of caution, forethought and consideration for others in all we do are the first prerequisites for a safe and happy existence in the Summer of '72.

Pack these attitudes with your tent, put them in your boat, carry them in your car. If you do this, the changes will be immeasurably enhanced that you and other whom you meet will remember this summer with the nostalgic pleasure that will put a warm spot in your heart for years to come.

Fighting fire with fire

Undoubtedly millions of Michiganders shook their heads in dismay when they read recently that the State Senate saw fit to pass a bill which would allow children to obtain birth control pills, devices and information from physicians without parents' knowledge or consent.

Earlier, the House had passed the bill which prohibited anyone under 16 from obtaining birth control devices. The Senate, armed with the knowledge girls as young as 12 as bearing illegitimate offspring, struck the 16-year-old limit.

The bill now goes back to the House for concurrence on the age limit. While the thought of children being so involved seems unbelievable, the statistics with which the Legislature was confronted were certainly compelling.

Senator Alvin DeGrow, chairman of the Senate Health and Social Committee, pointed to the fact that in 1969 about 49 per cent of the Michigan children born to women under 18 are illegitimate. Statistics for 1969 showed that illegitimate children were born to girls 11, 12 and 13.

Among the 14-year-olds, 319 children were

Responsibility must be defined

By JOHN E. McCAULEY State Senator 11th District

Something new is happening at the Capitol. For the first time that anyone can remember, the legislature is making a real effort to fix some responsibility on those who are state employees, and is taking steps to curb the power of the bureaucrats.

This action is long overdue. For too long we have had too many decisions being made by people whom you never hear of, with the blame for anything that went wrong, and it usually did, being heaped on the members of the legislature or some other elected official.

By building into a system certain restrictions, and making certain that there are actions taken that are responsible and responsive to the will of the people, we will go a long way toward developing the kind of government we have a right to expect.

Over the past 20 years, there has been a drift away from tuning government to the wishes of the people. It has been this failure to recognize the need for responsiveness that has produced the sense of frustration and near despair that afflicts so many people. There is a feeling that really there is nothing that a citizen can do in the face of his government, that the system is far too big and powerful for any one person to do anything about.

When the individual in this country gets the feeling that he no longer counts for anything, then we are in very deep trouble, and it is time we face up to our responsibilities and do something about restoring the faith and trust that was the cornerstone of government for so many years.

The element of trust in government, belief in the system and the men and women who make that system work, seem to be eroding with each passing day.

The issue of credibility will certainly surface during the next election campaign, and it will not be confined to the question of whether we can or cannot believe the person who serves as the President of the United States. The issue will go from the highest to the most menial political office in the smallest governmental unit.

The question that many people are asking is not just one of whether or not the public servants are really telling the truth, but sadly just how many and how much depend on outright lies.

The more the government official is away from the bright spotlight of publicity, the more likely it is that he or she will succumb to the temptation to cut the corner and give far less than the best service.

This is what we are trying to do in Lansing as the days of June wind down and it appears that the legislature will go into recess on the first of July.

We are trying to build into every bill, especially the bills dealing with the spending of your tax dollars, some safeguards that will make it possible for you to believe that you are getting a dollar's worth of honest effort for every tax dollar spent.

Naturally, those who work in government are no different than any other mortal. There are those who actually seek to be mediocre, so as to not draw any attention on themselves. There are those who do not care about working honestly and well.

There are also those who go that extra mile each day to serve the interest of the taxpayer and the citizen. They care about the needs and the hopes of the people of this state, and they perform well beyond what any person has a right to expect, and under conditions that are far from good.

What we are attempting to do this session is to tighten up the operation of your government, to reward and encourage those who serve, and to inspire those whose work standards have fallen to improve and become part of the team.

I think that this positive effort to improve efficiency standards of government on the state level will succeed. It will take some time, and there will be some opposition to the course that has been chosen, but the results will speak for themselves.

Resident to take business elsewhere

To the editor:

I've finally become a protestor. I believe in non-violence, so my protest will take the form of a boycott of all the business establishments in Belleville.

With a family of 10, our monthly expenditures are considerable:

Groceries and sundries — $400; party store, $100; Gasoline, four vehicles, $50; and clothing, yard supplies, bakery, etc. $150 for a total of $700.

Why? Harassment by a city of Belleville rookie policeman. In order to avoid being stopped and intimidated by a police officer for no good reason, I will bypass Belleville and take my business elsewhere.

Two bills proposed to run state lottery

The citizens of Michigan made it clear in the May 16 election they want a state lottery.

Seventy-three per cent of those who voted on the proposal favored removing a ban on lotteries which had been a part of the various state constitutions for 137 years.

This mandate from the people left it to the legislature to enact the necessary law. Even before the election, a bill had been introduced in the House and held there pending the outcome of the public referendum. Another bill was offered in the Senate immediately after the election.

The Senate bill was hurriedly passed, over the objections of a few senators who claimed there was too little time spent on it. The House bill was studied and revised by the House Committee on Judiciary, then sent to the Appropriations Committee for further refinements before it is put into position for House debate and vote.

There are similarities and differences in the two bills. The Senate bill would send state proceeds from the lottery into the general fund, but the House bill would specifically earmark the revenues for state institutions and state aid to education.

Both bills would limit lotteries to the state, although there were unsuccessful efforts in the Senate to permit local units of government to sponsor their own lotteries. This was aimed mainly at the

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

financially-troubled city of Detroit.

Neither of the bills would authorize bingo games. An attempt to amend the Senate bill to permit the licensing of bingo games sponsored by churches and charitable organizations failed to pass. In the House, a separate bill has been introduced to allow state-licensed bingo games for religious, fraternal and veterans' organizations.

Those who are supporting the bingo legislation maintain that many of those who voted for the constitutional amendment allowing lotteries did so because they wanted bingo legalized.

Both the House and Senate lottery bills would place operations under a state lottery director who would run a near-autonomous division within the Department of Treasury.

As it looks now, the lottery will be started sometime in the fall. Sponsors of the lottery bills claim that the lottery will mean an additional $60 million to $75 million in state revenues.

There are already six states that run lotteries. All of them are money makers. The bill passed by the Senate would be effective July 1, but in order to give the state time to organize, issue licenses and work out many other details, lottery tickets would not be sold before Oct. 1.

It is expected that the Michigan lottery will be patterned after the highly successful one in New Jersey. If this is the case, citizens would be able to buy unlimited numbers of 50 cent lottery tickets for weekly drawings.

The top prize in the weekly drawing would be $50,000. In New Jersey, there are 1,000 cash prizes each week for every million tickets sold. In addition to the weekly drawing, thousands of players receive a place in the so-called "millionaire drawing," in which the prize is $50,000 a year for 20 years, or a total of $1 million.

Tickets in New Jersey are sold from vending machines in supermarkets, neighborhood bars and drug stores. Before vendors can get a state license, there is a screening for police records, credit ratings and standings in the business community.

In Michigan, the pending lottery bills would have the lottery director, or commissioner, appointed by the governor. The House bill provides for quarterly audits of the lottery division, or as requested by the governor. It also permits temporary licenses for lottery agents until they can be screened for issuance of non-transferable annual licenses.

Romulus Jaycees hold spring festival, parade

Once again this year the Romulus Jaycees are sponsoring their Spring Festival Carnival and Parade.

The events are scheduled to begin Saturday, June 17 and run through Sunday, June 25.

The carnival grounds will be located at the corner of Wayne

Road and Michele Drive, across from the Romulus Senior High School.

The Jaycees indicate the dunk tank will again be in use and participants will be able to "water down" some of the local community figures.

The regular parade is being scheduled for Sunday, June 25, at noon. It will begin at Kennedy Park and travel east on Goddard Road to Wayne Road and then north to the carnival area.

Participants are being sought and the Jaycees hope any persons not previously contacted will call Mike Pawelak, parade chairman, at 941-0049. Any floats, individuals, groups, horses, etc. are welcome, but the Jaycees do require prior notice by participants.

It is expected that this year's carnival and events will far surpass any previously seen in the community, and the Jaycees look forward to the good times enjoyed by all. They also wish to remind the public all proceeds are used by the club to further other community projects throughout the coming year.

Any young men, ages 18-35, who would be interested in becoming involved in their community are urged to join the Jaycees during the Spring festival or to call Al Bossidis, membership chairman, at 941-0354 for further information.

St. Aloysius tots 'graduate'

Fourteen five-year-olds of the St. Aloysius Pre-School Program were in the graduation class recently held at the school.

Members of the graduation class were Michael Van-Stipdonk, Lori King, Karen St. Amand, Terri Coatsworth, Thomas Hawkins, Leeza Whalen and Tanya Meadows.

Also, Wendy Kuslowski, Billy Gischia, Wayne Chernick, Carole Peterlin, Laurie Hamel, Dina Weller, Thomas LaClair and Gerry Martin.

Mrs. Carole Peterlin is program director and Mrs. Lois VanStipdonk and Mrs. Marlene Bolduc are teachers.

The children wore graduation-type caps and long-stemmed carnations. The diplomas handed the children were rolled and tied with ribbon. Both the five-year-old and the four-year-old classes sang a song and performed a finger play for the parents and guests present.

The Rev. Fr. Joseph Kernosek, pastor of St. Aloysius Church, spoke briefly to the children.

The St. Aloysius Pre-School Program consists of a five-year-old class, a four-year-old class and a nursery for two- and three-year-olds.

The classes are held during the 10:30 a.m. Mass on Sundays. There have been approximately 80 children enrolled in this year's program.

Classes will resume in September, Mrs. Peterlin announced.

Wheat allotment plan established

A new farm wheat allotment may be established for the 1973 crop of wheat for farms that did not have a 1972 allotment, if they meet eligibility requirements, Arthur Monks of the Wayne County ASC Committee announced today.

A 1973 wheat allotment will be established automatically for all farms that had a wheat allotment in 1972.

To be eligible for a new farm allotment, the operator must expect to receive 50 per cent or more of his income from farming.

Applications for a new farm allotment must be filed in the county office on or before June 10.

Any interested producer who can meet these requirements should contact the county office before the final date for filing an application.

For further information, contact the local ASC office at 3716 Newberry St., Wayne.

ACCEPTED TO GMI — Michael Bilbrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bilbrey of 7476 Merriman Rd., Romulus, has been accepted to the General Motors Institute (GMI) in Flint. An honor student in the 1972 Romulus Senior High School graduating class, Bilbrey is sponsored at GMI by the Hydro-Matic plant in Willow Run. Retail furniture outlet opens Friday in Taylor

A vast retail furniture "supermarket" known as Joshua Doore will officially open Friday, at the site of the 3½-million-cubic-foot facility at Eureka Road and I-75 Freeway in Taylor.

Officiating at opening ceremonies scheduled for 10 a.m. will be Mayor Richard R. Trolley of Taylor and Robinson Furniture Co. officials Harvey Leach, chairman of the board, and Spencer Reuben, president.

Grand opening prizes to be featured during a three-day celebration include a room-full of furniture awarded every hour each day and a luxury 1972 Ford Maverick car. The showrooms will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

weekdays and from noon to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Joshua Doore was developed by Robinson Furniture Co. at a cost of approximately $4 million. Combining a warehouse with 300 showrooms under one roof, the 10½-acre complex is the first to offer unique customer advantages to furniture buyers in the Detroit area.

Reuben said the warehouse-showroom operation lets buyers take advantage of an unusually large furniture selection at exceptionally low prices. With huge inventories available at the point of purchase, buyers have the added advantage of immediate take-home delivery.

"Joshua Doore not only offers customers a broad selection of name-brand furniture," Reuben said, "but also eliminates one of the most vexing problems of furniture buying. Customers will not have to wait as long as 60 days for delivery. Items selected in the showroom will be at dock-side in the adjoining warehouse for the customer's pick-up within the hour." The new furniture outlet will stock approximately 60,000 items representing more than 50 furniture name brands.

Congressman Ford seeks re-election

Congressman William D. Ford formally announced today that he will seek re-election this fall as the Democratic representative of Michigan's revised 15th Congressional District.

Ford, now completing his fourth term in Washington, has represented the 15th District since it was created in the reapportionment of 1964, following the 1960 census.

Under a recent court-ordered apportionment based on the 1970 census, the following areas have been added to the 15th District: all of Ash Township, Brownstown Township, Flat Rock, Gibraltar, Rockwood and Woodhaven; all of Southgate except a few blocks in the northern section, and a small section of southeastern Livonia. All are in Wayne County except Ash Township, which is in Monroe County.

Retained in the 15th District are Belleville, Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Inkster, Romulus, Taylor, Wayne and Westland, and the townships of Canton, Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren.

The cities of Allen Park, Lincoln Park and Melvindale, formerly part of the 15th District, were transferred to the 16th District, which is represented by Congressman John Dingell.

WILLIAM D. FORD
While expressing disappointment at losing these three cities, Congressman Ford noted that all of the newly added communities except Ash Township and Livonia were part of the old 21st State Senatorial District which he represented in Lansing in 1963-64.

"So I will be welcoming back many former constituents and a great many old friends and supporters," Ford said.

In Washington, Ford serves on the Education and Labor Committee, is ranking member of its General Education Subcommittee, and also sits on the Special and Select Labor Subcommittees.

He also is a member of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, where he is ranking member of the Postal Service Subcommittee and second ranking member of the Manpower and Civil Service Subcommittee.

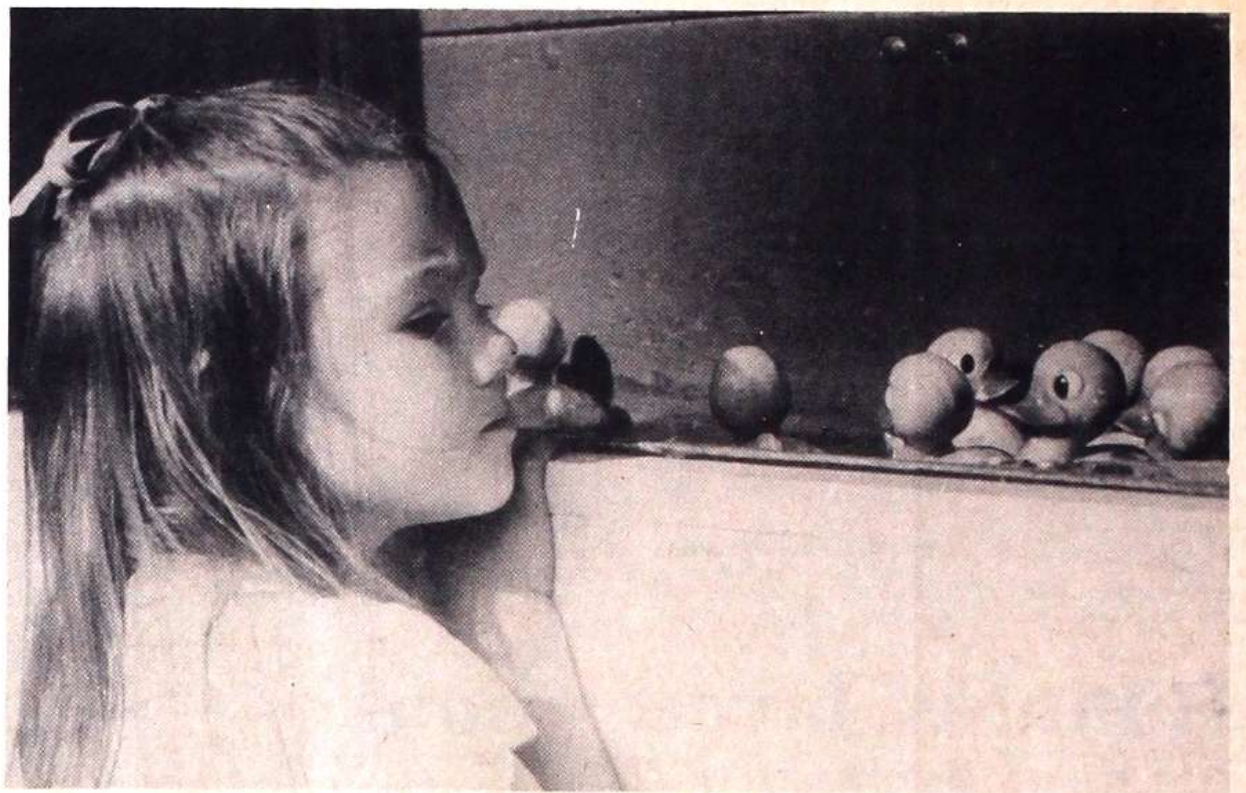

Ford is secretary and executive board member of the Democratic Study Group, an influential organization of House Democrats which has spearheaded many battles for the passage of progressive legislation.

He was named last year by Speaker Carl Albert as one of two Congressional advisors to UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization).

In the House of Representatives, Ford has played a leading role in efforts to end the War in Southeast Asia, prohibit forced cross-district busing for racial balance, eliminate loopholes in Federal tax laws and increase Federal financing for education.

Ford, a long-time resident of Taylor, served in the Navy during the Second World War, and utilized the G.I. Bill of Rights to earn a bachelor's degree and law degree at the University of Denver.

He practiced law in Taylor from 1951 until his election to Congress, and served as a local judge, city attorney and State Constitutional Convention delegate. He served in the State Senate for two years, won election to Congress in 1964, and has been returned to office in each succeeding election with increasing margins. Two years ago, he won re-election with 80 per cent of the vote.

Ford says amendment will end busing threat

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman William D. Ford (D-Michigan) declared this week that amendments to the Higher Education Bill, passed Thursday by the House of Representatives, have ended the threat of forced cross-district busing in the Detroit area.

The bill, passed by a narrow vote of 218-180, includes the so-called Broomfield Amendment, co-sponsored by Congressman Ford, which bars any court-ordered busing pending review by the U. S. Supreme Court.

This provision was originally introduced as separate legislation last October by Congressman Ford and six other Detroit-area representatives. Because the name of Congressman William Broomfield was listed first among the co-sponsors, it has come to be known as the Broomfield Amendment.

On Nov. 4, when the Higher Education Bill was before the House, the seven co-sponsors authorized Broomfield to offer their proposal as an amendment to the bill. It was approved, included in the bill, and sent to the Senate, which approved it with minor changes. Thursday's vote represented final approval and the bill now needs only President Nixon's signature to become law.

"The intent of our amendment is clear," Congressman Ford said. "It is to prevent any federal district court from putting into effect any plan requiring the transfer or transportation of students from any school attendance area for the purpose of achieving a balance among students with respect to race, religion or socio-economic status."

Ford, who took an active role in debate preceding Thursday's vote, told his colleagues:

"I am convinced that if this legislation is adopted today, we will never see cross-district busing or court-ordered school district mergers in the State of Michigan or any other metropolitan area such as that surrounding Detroit."

Congressman Ford sharply refuted arguments by the Republican Minority Leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford, who opposed the bill.

"I was shocked and somewhat amazed by the distinguished minority leader, who launched a wholly unwarranted and misleading attack on this legislation," Congressman Ford said during the debate. "Section 803 (The Broomfield Amendment) is the most important provision of this entire act to the people of my district, to the State of Michigan, and perhaps to the country."

Rezoning hearing tomorrow

A proposed amendment to the Romulus Zoning Ordinance will be up for adoption at tomorrow's public hearing.

The proposed zoning amendment involves a land parcel on Goddard Road in the vicinity of Bibbins Street.

The land site's present zoning is C-2 (general business). It is proposed to rezone the site to M-2 (general industrial).

The hearing will begin at 7 p.m. in the city council chambers.

Congressman Ford said a federal appeals court ruling last week in Richmond had reinforced his conviction that higher courts will not sanction cross district busing. In the Richmond case, the appeals court overturned a lower court decision ordering the merger of the Richmond school district with two suburban school districts to achieve racial balance.

Marzonia is a graduate of the Michigan State University School of Hotel Administration and previously managed the Hilton Inn and Ramada Inn in Ann Arbor, a resort in Tucson, Ariz., and also worked with the Stouffer Foods Corp. for several years. He and his family presently reside in Ypsilanti Township. His wife, Sal, has a position with Parkview Medical, affiliated with the University of Michigan Hospital, as a consulting psychologist.

Rezoning hearing planned

The Van Buren Planning Commission has approved unanimously the holding of a public hearing on a citizen's request to rezone a three-acre parcel of land on Belleville Road between Harmony Lane and the Belleville Road bridge.

No date for the public hearing has yet been scheduled.

The rezoning request was filed by Jack Begin of 615 Harley St., Belleville, who plans the construction of a restaurant and cocktail lounge on the land parcel.

The site is presently zoned R-1A (single family). A zoning change to C-1 (general business) is being requested.

Brownies become scouts

Brownie Girl Scout Troop 664 of Romulus sadly said good-bye to eight of its members on Tuesday, June 6.

As is customary in Girl Scouting, girls who have completed the third grade and/or attained the age of nine must fly up in a special ceremony.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 262, led by Mrs. Joan Long, accepted the following girls: Terrie Kaczynski, Sandra Bozelak, Judy Maitland, Sandra Collier, Yvonne Wise, Elizabeth Proffitt and Debbie Vernatter. Absent was Sandra Coste.

The girls received their wings and Brownie handshakes from leader Mrs. Mary Bozelak. They proceeded by taking stepping stones across a bridge, where they were greeted by Mrs. Long. She presented each of them with their trefoil and world association pins. In return, they gave the Girl Scout promise and were welcomed into the troop's hosiery.

Refreshments were served by both troops. Special guest was Troop Service Director Mrs. Donna Lee Zavit.

Last Wednesday the girls made Father's Day gifts and enjoyed their last meeting for the school year. The troop is sponsored by the Hayti Elementary School in Romulus. The girls will be missed "very much" by leader Mrs. Bozelak, assistant leader Mrs. Lorene Proffitt and committee mothers.

Next leaders will be Mrs. Caroline Nagy and Mrs. Kay Brown. The mothers and fathers who assisted the troop this year were given a "big thank you" by the troop's leaders.

For road commission

Minority employment group appointed

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has named a special coordinating committee to help implement a minority employment program in the County Road Commission.

Creation of the committee was agreed upon during a meeting at which union representatives complained that an affirmative action program adopted recently by the Road Commission conflicts in some respects with the seniority provisions of labor contracts.

The road commission plan sets a five-year goal for increasing its non-white employment until it equals the 27 per cent proportion of minority population in Wayne County.

The road commission, responsible for operation of the Detroit-Wayne County Metropolitan Airport, needs an affirmative action minority employment program to qualify for government funds dispensed by the Federal Aviation Authority (FAA).

It also is required to have a specific program for hiring and upgrading minority employees as a result of action by the board of commissioners.

In March, the commissioners directed all county departments to submit an affirmative action program with detailed plans of operation.

The road commission proposal is the first submitted and the first to come under review of the special coordinating committee.

Nursery tots see live animals

"Does this one bite?" was the question asked most frequently when the members of the YWCA pre-school nursery and their mothers visited a farm last week to see the animals in real life.

After a disappointing rain-out the week before, more than 100 nursery - aged children and their mothers met at St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus last Wednesday and were rewarded with a beautiful sunny day.

Car loads of eager children with sack lunches in hand left the church at 11 a.m. for the Children's Farm and Riding School, located on Denton Road in Canton Township.

According to Jeannie Urser, nursery supervisor, the day was a big success. The nearest thing to a problem, Mrs. Urser stated, was one little girl who wanted to bring the turkey home with her.

After lunch on the shady lawn, the children went on a hay ride and later toured the barns, where they saw a goat and a cow being milked and were allowed to feed and pet some of the other animals.

NEW MEDICAL CENTER'S OPEN HOUSE — The new Sumpter Family Medical Center, located at 24560 Sumpter Rd., held an open house Saturday afternoon. Shown in the reception room of the family medical care and teaching center are some of the participants. The center's initial costs were covered by a $54,252 grant from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek. The Center operates from a specially-built mobile home under the direction of the medical staff of the Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.

Ball auxiliary plans car wash

The Romulus Youth Baseball Association's Women's Auxiliary will meet at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, June 20, at the United Methodist Church, located at 11190 Olive St., Romulus.

According to Mr. Marge McCrory, president, plans will be finalized for a car wash scheduled for Saturday, June 24, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. at Martin's Marathon Station, located at Wayne and Wick roads.

Other activities to be discussed will include an awards night. Mrs. McCrory stated the auxiliary hopes to get a speaker from the Detroit Tigers for the event.

The women's group has been active in fund raising to offset costs of uniforms, equipment and insurance. Fund raising events have included bakes sales, paper drives, sale of Christmas cards and refreshment concession at games.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Mark Twain once said, "When I was a boy of fourteen, my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I got to be twenty-one, I was astonished at how much he had learned in seven years."

Mark Twain's realization is not unique. A lot of present day youngsters will likewise discover, when they merge a future present with the past, that many dads deserve a tribute expressed by an unknown author ... "Only a dad, with a tired face... Coming home from the daily race ... Bringing little of gold and fame ... To show how well he played the game ... But glad in his heart that his own rejoice ... To see him come and to hear his voice ... Only a dad, but he gives his all ... To smooth the way for his children small ... Doing, with courage stern and grim ... The deeds his father did for him ... These are the lines for him I pen ... Only a dad, but the best of men."

Demolition bids sought for urban renewal plan

The City of Romulus is seeking bids for the demolition of 60 structures and building foundations in Romulus' initial Urban Renewal Project, located in the Wayne-Beverly roads area.

The city council last week approved going out for bids and set 5 p.m. July 5 as the deadline for acceptance of the bid proposals.

The city's initial urban renewal project embraces 175 acres in the Wayne-Beverly redevelopment Program under urban renewal procedures set by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Romulus' total urban renewal program involves a total of 575 acres located in the Wayne-Beverly Road area and covers a redevelopment period of several years.

The first phase, the 175 acres, is bounded by Chamberlain Street, Beverly Road, Howe Road and Van Borne Road.

The bid proposals are to be covered by five demolition contracts that bidders can submit for council review on July 5.

The first contract will involve two buildings, four building foundations and one shed.

The second contract will involve five frame buildings, five block buildings and two garages.

The third contract will involve one frame building and five building foundations.

The fourth contract will involve nine frame buildings, two block buildings and six building foundations, and the fifth will cover eight frame buildings, eight block buildings and two building foundations.

Contract documents may be examined at the office of Wade, Trim & Associates, Inc., city engineers, at 25185 Goddard Rd., Taylor. Copies for bidding purposes may be obtained upon payment of $10 or $15 if mailed.

Plans and specifications will be available after June 15.

On May 25, the city council approved the appointment of two firms as developers of the first phase of the city's urban renewal program.

Designated as the developers for the single family residential structures in the first phase are Hi-Fashion Homes Inc. of Detroit and Bailey-Kinley Associates, Inc. of Ann Arbor.

George Wilhelm, Romulus urban renewal director, reported there are 280 single-family lots in the 175-acre land site. The estimated cost of the land to be purchased by the developers is $900,000.

Wilhelm also reported the total private development in the first phase of the city's total urban renewal program will be in the neighborhood of $8.5 million.

State okays improvements

A bond issue to finance the cost of a major improvement program for Sumpter Road, Sumpter Township's main thoroughfare, has been approved by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing, State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-38th Dist.) announced Monday.

The commission's decision followed a legal review and approval by Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley of a proposed $14.7 million bond issue to finance an asphaltic resurfacing program for Wayne County roads.

The Wayne County Road Commission had previously approved Sumpter's improvement program. Now, with the approval of the state municipal finance commission, the road commission can go ahead with the sale of bonds.

Persistent efforts by former Sumpter Township board members (prior to the May 16 recall election), assisted by Mahalak, brought success to the long-awaited Sumpter Road improvement program and end to repeated complaints from township residents and outsiders on the road's condition.

Mahalak reported he was going to contact the road commission and request it give high priority to Sumpter Road.

• WEBSTER, WHOSE simple definition of "Summer" was: "That season of the year during which the sun shines most directly" ... certainly didn't know much about OUR house! "Summer" hereabouts is more like "that season preceded by such phrases as, 'Oh, dear! Is School out a-g-a-l-n?' We say other things, too, like:

• "WHAT WILL EVERYONE WEAR?" Of course, Vacation Clothes for Mothers & Children will nevermore be a problem, once you become acquainted with MINERVA'S DUNNINGS, at 500 Forest, in Plymouth! We've just come away from there dazzled by double-fun Playwear! (Everything is so nice you'll use it twice as often!) Bathing suits pretty enough to stay OUT of the water in... "far out!" And IN the pool or out, they stay fresh and bright as long as you do! Long Dresses pretty enough for a Mediterranean Cruise... comfy enough for your Patio. Pretty Pants that go partying... or wading! (Short, long, YOU decide, Minerva's has 'em.) And the little things that mean a lot: Children's Play Clothes that go into the sandbox... or off on a vacation... staying neat and colorful and really MOD, all the while! THAT'S WHAT everyone will wear!

• "WELL, WHAT WILL THEY do all summer?" If you're a Mother who encourages creativity, they'll be busy at ANDERSON CRAFTS (640 Starkweather, in the Old Village area of Plymouth). A FIRST in Summer Programs for youngsters age 6-16 will include Classes in Ceramics, Macrame and Candle Crafting as well as general Craft Classes. Anyone calling 455-7575 between 9 a.m. & 5:30 p.m. or 455-5792 after 6:00 p.m. may have complete information on exact times. Children's Macrame Classes will produce Belts, Handbags, Sandals and many other useful and giftable items. Other classes will do even more to augment the creative urge we destroy when our too frequent answer to "What can I do?" is "Go away quietly." THIS SUMMER when they ask, tell them, "Something very worthwhile!" Call the above numbers... and they'll let you know when to come by!

• AND THEN ... and t-h-e-n YOU will settle back and really enjoy your Summer! Indoor living takes on a new importance, now, due to considerations such as pollution outside, air conditioning inside ... and some of the real "Relaxers" you'll find at NATIONAL UNCLAIMED FURNITURE SHOWROOMS, one of which is at 2985 Ford Rd., in Garden City. When you're there this weekend, picking out that Recliner or Rocker for Dad ... ask about the special Summer Furniture calculated to make a neglected corner summer bright ... or to help a tired parent unwind. Special Chairs ... fabulous Bedroom Suites ... beautiful, colorful Furniture. And if you want something that will REALLY make you feel great: ask about their THREE Delivery and Service Plans! They're open daily 11-9 Sunday 12-6, and if you're in a hurry to get Father's GIFT home to him ... you'll SAVE more than ever, by taking it right along! Ask how this discount plan works for you and, like we said really relax this Summer!

• ODD HOW THE "Finishing Touch" that truly makes your home a Home ... is the first thing to go into it! Because it is most certainly the Floor Covering that makes the room ... the entire House! Therefore, it's a "must" we can't ignore. You know, Shoppers' Digest has always been the first to acclaim the best ... and to remind that it doesn't "cost" ... it PAYS to have the very best! Many chain-type Carpet Stores, however, keep the cost w-a-y up there, where you simply CAN'T have it. Small wonder we're so proud to have announced the opening of OLD TOWN FLOOR COVERING, at 192 W. Liberty, in "old-town" Plymouth! Here at our elbow is a paper containing another Merchant's ad. The special "Sale" price (for one "tremendous" week only, etc.) is HIGHER than Jay & Deloris Newell's regular everyday price! If you're going to do ANY Summer Carpeting, no matter WHERE you live or shop ... or what you already have planned, DON'T pass up the opportunity to see what they can do for you at Old Town Floor Covering! The savings you'll enjoy will surely sweeten your summer! (Call 455-7658.)

• AND WHEN YOU TALK about Summer ... and relaxing ... you're bound to talk about something as great as the new Grape Malt Duck ... about your favorite Apple Malt Duck, and about the Summer Recipes you're sending us, using both Malt Ducks and ALTES BEER! Take a long c-o-o-l drink of any or all of them ... and send us another "Brew Something UP" Recipe, like: Save out a 12 oz. Can to mix with 2 T. of fresh green onion or shallots and 2 ribs coarsely chopped celery. Once boiling, add 3 lbs. Shrimp in shells, return to boil. Now reduce heat; simmering til Shrimp bluish. Drain and serve with Sherry Garlic Butter. In small saucepan melt 1/2 cup Butter; stir in 1/4 cup Dry Sherry & 1/4 tsp. Garlic Salt. Heat through. Use as Shrimp Dip. That's the way we do it at our house. How about YOU?? If you can top our Recipe, using Malt Duck or Altes, we'll treat you to a "Winner Dinner" at your choice of fine Restaurants. How's THAT for a great way to start your Summer? Write to: SHOPPERS' DIGEST, P.O. Box 2482, Livonia (48151). Good luck!!

Gun control ordinance before voters Aug. 8

Registered voters in Romulus will vote on the retention or rejection of a Firearms Ordinance in the Aug. 8 primary election.

At its April 4 session, the City Council approved accepting petitions calling for a referendum vote of the new gun control ordinance.

The new ordinance has been approved by the City Council in a special meeting on Jan. 27 by a roll call vote of 6-1.

Since its adoption, the ordinance has been the subject of both citizen praise and protest.

At the June 6 city council session, the official text of the referendum proposition to be presented to the electorate on Aug. 8 was submitted to the council and approved. It follows:

"Ordinance No. 72-33, an ordinance to prohibit the discharge of certain firearms within the City of Romulus, except within certain permitted areas: to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and to provide for the licensing of rifle ranges, was adopted by the Romulus City Council on Jan. 27, 1972 and therefore made subject to referendum. Shall such ordinance become effective?"

The voters are being asked to vote either for or against the ordinance.

Stewart, who opposes any sort of gun control bills, was the code's only opponent.

Stewart recently stated, "I am not opposed to a partial hunting in the city where the population is greater than areas that are still suitable for hunting. This decision would have to be made by the state upon recommendation of the City Council."

The tiger takes infinite pains in stalking prey.

Dear Sumpter Resident:

The Sumpter Township Board has designated April 15, 1972, thru June 15, 1972, as "Clean Up and Beautify Sumpter Township Time."

You, a resident of Sumpter Township have an opportunity to help us do this by policing your own property and surrounding area of all unsightly items. Old stoves, refrigerators, washing machines, etc., that are no longer useable will be picked up if you call the Sumpter Township Hall at 461-6201 or 697-0900 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday thru Friday and 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Saturdays. Junk cars will also be towed away free of charge by calling the above numbers.

We are asking each resident to eliminate any blight conditions on his property. We hope you will take advantage of this opportunity as our Police Department will be directed to issue violations for any blight conditions that exist in the Township after June 15, 1972.

Thank you for your cooperation.

THE SUMPTER TOWNSHIP BOARD

E. The existence of any vacant dwelling, garage, or other outbuilding unless same are kept securely locked, windows kept glazed, or neatly boarded up and otherwise protected to prevent entrance hereto by vandals.

F. The existence of any partially completed structure unless such structure is in the course of construction in accordance with a valid and subsisting building permit issued by the Township and unless such construction is completed within a reasonable time.

SECTION 3.

ENFORCEMENT AND PENALTIES

A. This Ordinance shall be enforced by such persons who shall be so designated by the Township Board.

B. The owner, if possible and the occupant of any property upon which any of the causes of blight or blighting factors set forth in Section 2 hereof is found to exist shall be notified in writing to remove or eliminate such causes of blight or blighting factors from such property within ten days after service of the notice upon him. Such notice may be served personally or by registered mail, return receipt requested. Additional time may be granted by the enforcement officer where bonafide efforts to remove or eliminate such causes of blight or blighting factors are in progress.

C. Failure to comply with such notice within the time allowed by the owner and/or occupant shall constitute a violation of this ordinance.

D. Violation of this ordinance shall be a misdemeanor which shall be punishable upon conviction thereof by a fine not to exceed $100 or by imprisonment not exceeding 30 days or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court.

Two more file for township spots

Two more Van Buren Township residents have filed nominating petitions for township offices in the Aug. 8 primary election.

Seeking re-election to the office of constable is the township's present police chief, John R. Willet Sr. of 41124 Savage Rd. He has been a constable since 1963.

Willet and his wife, Alicia, are the parents of three grown children. He is employed by the University of Michigan grounds department and has been active in Boy Scouts and Little League activities for the last 12 years. Willet is a Democrat.

Incumbent Constable Joseph W. Rafalsky of 10195 Haggerty Rd. also has filed petitions seeking re-election and a continuance of his 12 years in office. He also is a Democrat.

Others who filed nominating petitions earlier are Thomas M. Kelly, 21, of 21 Locust Dr., Belleville, a Democrat, seeking one of the township's trustee positions, and Arthur F. Surret, 42, of 8295 Marlowe, Belleville, a Republican, who is seeking one of the four constable positions up for election this year.

Surret, a transport driver for the Martin Oil Co., formerly worked for the township as a part-time police officer. Kelly is an electrician apprentice.

The office of supervisor, clerk, treasurer, and two trustees are up for election this year, along with the four constable spots.

The deadline for filing nominating petitions is June 20, and the deadline for withdrawing petitions is June 23.

Grease Paint...

...and Spotlights

By TED G. MARTIN

On June 19 the Romulus City Players will begin tryouts for its summer theatre program, consisting of three children's plays.

Because this is a summer program, the members of the Romulus City Players felt the children's theatre would provide the Romulus youth with much needed entertainment during their months away from school.

In an effort to fulfill the needs of the community, two of the plays will be performed by junior high-aged people. The two plays will be "Tom Sawyer's Morning" and "Peter the Pied Piper."

"Tom Sawyer's Morning" is a short, one-act play covering the familiar scene painting scene and Tom's betrothal to Becky. All of the favorite characters who were created by Mark Twain are vividly brought to life in this delightful play.

The second play to be done by the junior high people is again a very familiar story. A piper is hired to rid the town of Hamlet of rats. When the piper accomplishes his goal, the city officials refused to live up to their end of the bargain, and the piper leads the children of the city away. Again, this is a very enjoyable play for children and adults both.

Group two - Those young people living south of the I-94 expressway; 9 a.m. - 12 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The young people will be able to ride the day care buses to the high school on their rehearsal days, but will have to be picked up by their parents at noon because no bus service is available at that time. This program will begin on June 19. Interested people should come in on the rehearsal day designated above.

The third play being offered this summer is "Toby Tyler: or Ten Weeks in the Circus." What is it like for a young boy who runs away with the circus? That is the subject of this very interesting story.

There is presently no drama program available to the junior high-aged children in their school. It is the hope of the Romulus City Players that enough interest in theatre can be developed by these young people this summer so that further opportunities in drama may be made available to them during the school year at Romulus Junior High.

It is therefore urged that all of the young people of Romulus between the ages of 12 and 14 who are interested in this type of activity come in and participate. The rehearsal times for the two groups are as follows:

Group one - Those young people living north of the I-94 expressway; 9 a.m. - 12 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays.

This play will be done by the adult members of the Romulus City Players in the same spirit and delightfully entertaining fashion they displayed during their spring production of "Winnie the Pooh."

Rehearsals for the adult program will be in the evenings from 6:30 to 9 p.m. beginning June 19. All Romulus residents are urged to come down and join this most rewarding form of activity.

Rehearsals for all groups will be held at the Romulus High School auditorium at the times mentioned above. Remember also, there are many jobs in theatre that do not require an appearance on stage.

Summer reading club sponsored

The Romulus Public Library has announced it will sponsor a summer Reading Club.

Any child entering the second grade or higher next year is invited to read a raft of books while adventuring with Huckleberry Finn down the Mississippi.

Registration begins on June 19. The club will begin on July 7 and end on Aug. 25, Miss Diane Covert, librarian, announced.

Also, this summer there will be a film festival at the library every Friday beginning July 7. There will be two showings - one at 10 a.m. and one at 11 a.m.

The following films will be shown:

July 7, "Roy, Sheep Dog of the Scottish Highlands;" July 14, "Rusty and the Falcon;" July 21, "Paddle to the Sea;" July 28, "The Pigeon that Worked a Miracle;" Aug. 4, "And Now Miguel;" Aug. 11, "Hunted in Holland;" Aug. 18, "Lady of the Light;" Aug. 25, "Spring Garden;" Aug. 25, "Moonbeam Princess;" "Dick Whittington and His Cat."

You do not have to be a member of the Summer Reading Club to attend the films.

Revised site plan OK'd by planners

A revision in the site plan for the third phase of Knob-on-the-Lake apartment complex, located on Denton Road, has been approved by the Van Buren Township Planning Commission.

William Moore of Frank Volk and Associates of Dearborn and Donald Geake of Geake and Associates of 26748 Southfield Rd., Lathrup Village, developers of the apartment complex, presented the revised site plan to the township planners.

They reported to the commission they had found a better place to build the clubhouse in the proposed third phase. They also said they are turning the buildings formerly facing the I-94 Expressway so the ends are facing the expressway.

They also reported the one-bedroom apartments are selling better than the two-bedroom apartments and they are building more one-bedroom apartments.

Planning Commissioner Jerry Maton made a motion to approve the revised site plan. He was supported by Commissioner Donald Carlson. The motion unanimously was approved by the commission.

City seeks bids

The deadline for submission of bids on the installation of a multi-purpose court in Kennedy Park, located at Five Points in Romulus, is 5 p.m. June 27, City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar announced Monday.

The city is seeking proposals on 1,667 square yards of four-inch asphalt base with one-inch 31 A surface course and 500 lineal feet of asphalt curb.

The bid proposals must be sent to the city clerk's office, 11111 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus. Contract documents are available at the clerk's office.

Romulus frosh picked All-Area

The 1972 area high school tennis barometer was a gloomy one.

There were no area league champs.

There were no area regional team champs.

And, thanks to a pair of Inkster underclassmen, the area was represented at the State Finals.

But, despite the dismal team picture, there were a handful of individuals who upheld the area's tennis honor. Among them were Ocie Carswell and Rowan Childs, Inkster's representatives to the state finals; Jim Law (Wayne Memorial), Scott Sanders (John Glenn), Jack Pizarek (Livonia Franklin), Mark Osenko (Churchill), David Lobkovich (Cherry Hill), Art Kuhn (Garden City West), Pete Verbanac (Garden City East), and Ray Ebersberger (Romulus).

The 10 players represent the finest tennis talent the area had to offer in 1972 and today they were named to the All-Area honor roll. The team was picked by the coaches, The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers' sports staff.

Law, one of four seniors, is the only holdover from last year's squad. He follows in the footsteps of brother, John, who also was a two-time All-Area tennis player.

The No. 1 Wayne singles racket, Law compiled an admirable 10-1 over-all record and was undefeated in Mid-Wayne Conference competition this season.

He reached the semi-finals at the regionals held at Ypsilanti before he lost his bid for a state finals' berth.

"Jim has tremendous potential," said Wayne Coach George Linne, "he can really be a fantastic player."

Law lettered as a sophomore and has played three years on the Zebra varsity squad.

Pizarek and Osenko also have the distinction of being the first ever to be named to the All-Area tennis squad from Livonia. Pizarek, a senior, who carried the role of No. 1 singles for Livonia Franklin Coach Bill Lively's team helped the Patriots to a 5-5 won-lost record in the tough Northwest Suburban. (That record was the school's best.)

"He has a lot of determination and sheer determination helped him beat players who were more experienced than he was," said Lively.

Osenko is a junior who piled up a 9-5 personal record and, in his second varsity season, was named to the all-Western Six Conference team as its No. 1 singles' racket.

"Mark is a solid player more defensive orientated than offensive," said Coach Walt Yauch, "and he is a real hard worker."

Pizarek played as the fourth singles as a sophomore and won but two of 10 matches. Then as a junior he was utilized as a three or fourth singles and in the first doubles, registering a 8-6 won-lost ratio. As a junior he earned a berth on the Northwest Suburban Conference team as the best No. 4 singles.

Then, in his senior year, Coach Lively used Jack as a first doubles and he and his partner pulled out five wins while losing four in conference competition.

Sanders climaxed three years of varsity competition, playing No. 1 singles for Coach Don Aldrich's Rockets. He led the Westlanders to a 6-14 won-lost record, the best in the school's history.

Aldrich had this to say about Sanders, who was the team captain. "He's a tremendous person to work with, very dedicated and coachable."

Kuhn was the bright spot in the West High lineup, winning 11 out of his 16 dual meet matches. He was the lone area representative to the All-Tri-River team despite the fact his team finished without a victory this season.

"Art has a great tennis future," said West High School coach George Hanosh, "he's a good competitor who never gives in if he happens to be down."

Though underclassmen usually don't make waves when it comes to All-Area teams until their senior year, Osenko, Lobkovich, Verbanac, Childs and Carswell easily broke the senior monopoly.

Verbanac, the No. 1 singles stick for East High, lifted Coach John Carver's Panthers to an 8-4 dual meet record, the best in the area this season. As the top singles Pete finished with an even .500 record (6-6) but lost to only Law in league competition.

He's only a sophomore and that means Carver will have him around for two more years.

"As a sophomore Pete did a great job," said Carver, "we began his training when he was in the fifth grade and it started in the city's parks and recreation program."

Lobkovich is a junior who won 10 of his 16 dual meet matches as a member of Coach Mike Hairabedian's team. He was 5-7 in the Tri-River, a league dominated by once-defeated Dearborn Heights Riverside this season.

He was named as the team's Most Valuable Player.

"I have been working with this youngster since the sixth grade," said the Romulus coach, "and he has a lot of potential and has proven he can play against seasoned players.

"Ray can become one of the best tennis players in our school's history," added Kuryliw.

Childs, a sophomore, won 12 out of 13 matches while Carswell, a junior, carded 10-3 for the campaign.

Ebersberger, a 5 foot, 9 inch 136-pound netter is only a freshman, but he has been playing tennis since the sixth grade under Romulus High coach Zane Kuryliw's guidance.

A freshman who caught the eye of coaches, Ray posted 14 dual meet victories in 17 outings while his team managed to win four of 17 matches.

The name game

Two down and one to go - the "big one". With the unveiling today of the All-Area Tennis Team, only the baseball honor roll remains to be completed - and believe me that's the toughest.

Though the area failed to produce a single league champ, we did, as usual, have plenty of individual talent in the area. And a couple of teams - Garden City West and Belleville were serious contenders for their respective league titles.

But without the help of Gillette's (which draws up the official All-Star Game Ballot for the Major League) we were able to assemble some of the promising players from each of the 12 high schools that The Daily Eagle and Associated Newspapers cover and are going over their credentials.

Among the impressive pitchers brought to our attention by coaches are: Art Mach (Wayne Memorial), Dennis Ray (Garden City East), Terry Dobbs (Garden City West), Ken Wood (Livonia Churchill), Brent Conley (Dearborn Heights Robichaud), Vern Gowen (Belleville High), and Jamie Hinojosa (New Boston Huron).

And among the serious candidates for the catching chores one must give the following players consideration: J.P. McBride (Westland John Glenn), Rich McCain (Garden City East), Bruce Van Wagoner (Livonia Churchill), Mike Dansard (Belleville), Ken McMann (Romulus) and Dana Kemp (New Boston Huron).

Coaches have nominated 12 infielders to fill the four slots and a magician would have problems filling the bill. Here's the list offered for consideration: Gar Frantz (Livonia Franklin), Darren McHugh (Garden City West), Steve Orr (Garden City East), Kim Herbert (Wayne Memorial), Ron Thompson (Huron), Larry Hale (Romulus), Virgil Smith (Romulus), Kevin Bara (Belleville), Leonard Issac (Robichaud), Roger Sanders (Westland John Glenn), Roy Henriksson (Livonia Churchill) and Jim Kubiak (Cherry Hill).

For outfielders, take your pick: Steve Crowe (Livonia Franklin), Jeff Waterstone (Franklin), Craig Yee (Cherry Hill), Rick Dreher (Livonia Churchill), Mike Kotke (Belleville), Bruce Strachan (Romulus), Manuel Delarosa (Romulus), Tim Hinojosa (New Boston Huron), Bruce Davis (Wayne Memorial), Keith Anleitner (Garden City East) Jim Whaley (Garden City East), or Ray, who also played the outfield when he wasn't pitching for the Panthers.

These are not all whose statistics must be fed into a computer find the mythical team. Here are some others who are under serious consideration: Kevin Palmer (Franklin), Karney Derderian (Franklin), Jerry Herbst (GC West), Mike Keller (Churchill), Brian Kelly (Churchill), John Lee (Glenn), Jeff Hodgkins (Glenn), Mike Borders (Glenn), John Pankey (Robichaud), Darryl, Manning (Robichaud), Larry Farr (Belleville), Tim Vance (Belleville), Bob Eves (Belleville), Bob Eves (Romulus), Art Sarkkinen (Huron), Larry Smith (Huron), Charles Slamer (Wayne Memorial), Jack Faber (Wayne Memorial), Mike MacGregor (Wayne Memorial), Harold Duprie (Wayne Memorial), Tim Perdue (Wayne Memorial), Jim Wisniewski (Garden City East) and Jo Jo Reese (Inkster).

Of those 60 or more players, do you know how many will be named? Sure you do - nine! Is it no wonder that sportswriters and editors are tagged "bad guys" by fans along about this time of the season.

And, after picking the team there also is the job of selecting a coach of the year. Jim Chronowski, Wayne Memorial's mentor who guided the Zebras to the Les Anders Invitational Tournament title; Vitold Kaminski, whose Tigers at Belleville High finished third in a close race in the Suburban 8; West's Bob Dropp, whose team was a couple of runs away from the Tri-River Conference title; or Roger Frayer, Livonia Churchill's head coach who was one victory shy the Western Six championship.

Who would you pick? (That's a rhetorical question by the way.)

We'll let you know our selections before Friday.

2 teams are unbeaten

East may be East and West's west and, contrary to the saying, when the two meet in the Romulus Parks and Recreation's Adult Softball League, it should prove very interesting.

East Division leader, Coughlin Air, and West pacesetter, Spearman's Fine Foods streaked to their seventh consecutive triumphs last week in their respective leagues to remain undefeated on the season.

The undefeated western leaders met head on Tuesday with Spearman's nosing out Coughlin by Woodcraft 5 to 4. Spearman's scored in the opening inning when Howell singled and moved to third on an error and came home on Wally Goeckel's sacrifice fly.

Spearman's added two in the fourth when Twitchell singled in front of Kolia's triple, Frank Brooks chased Kolia home with a sacrifice fly. Parker reached base in the fifth on a miscue and scored in front of Goeckel's homer to provide Spearman's winning margin.

Carpentry scored an unearned run in the third when Sawulski reached base on an error and scored as Don Slawinski's grounder was booted. Carpentry threatened to break it open in the fourth when Jerry Kittle walked and Rich Spearman made the game-saving play, knocking down Dave Trosper's line shot heading for the right field corner and tossed to second to force Kittle.

Norm Nickerson singled, moving to second on the throw to third and Rick Heggie's single brought the runners home tying the score.

Carpentry, down again after Goeckel's blast, scored the games final run in the sixth when Dan Peterlin singled, moved up when Kittle reached second on an error and came home on a fielder's choice.

Spearman's extended its lead to two games over Carpentry by besting Hal's Market 7 to 3. Baum's Funeral Home handed Carpentry its second straight loss 7 to 1. Ted Marken and Ed Worden homered for Baum's. Mike Haush had a triple and two singles in three tries and Alex McCraight singled, doubled and tripled in his three plate appearances.

Pinch-hitter Donny Slowinski homered to spoil Ivan Kinshella's shutout bid. Baum's collected 12 hits in the contest while Kinshella scattered Carpentry's 5 hits.

Coughlin Air collected 18 hits in its 12 to 1 win over Hal's Market last Tuesday with Chuck Hazen recording the win. Leon James with 4 for 4, including a home run and 4 RBI's and Rick Paglia with a homer and 3 RBI's with his two hits led Coughlin past Cue Corners last Thursday 19 to 5. Ralph Rakotz was the winning pitcher.

Romulus Progressive Club scored four runs in the fifth and sixth innings and stopped Romulus Welding 14 to 6. Bill Reiber, Ken Mientkiewicz and Fred Eberline led the way for Progressive with three hits and 3 RBI's each. Ron Dick, Harmon Schonfeld, Walt Drewno and Chuck Earl each chipped in two hits in Progressives' 20 hit total. Welding rallied briefly in the seventh with one out on successive singles from Brown, Umfleet, Campbell and Chappo. Umfleet scored on Rossi's sacrifice fly. Studzinski flied out to end the game, stranding two runners.

Reel Realty rallied to bump Progressive out of the first place tie. Trailing 8 to 5 in the bottom of the seventh Carlington and Bunker singled. Tierney reached base on an error, Karwick walked, forcing in the first run and Bunker scored the second on a fielder's choice while Ray Swegles singled to tie the game and send it into extra innings.

Reel won it in the bottom of the 9th when Tierney walked, moved to second on Dutkiewicz' single and scored on Farrggia's two out single. Progressive played the game under protest on a third inning call and the outcome of the game is under a shadow pending action by the league board.

Morgan Manor gathered 16 hits to bury Baum's Funeral home 11 to 1. Randy Luczak homered for Morgan. Winning pitcher Ray Muck allowed six hits and lost his shutout when Alex McCraight doubled, moved to third on Mike Haush's fly ball and scored on an error.

Thursday Morgan bested Romulus Hardware and Auto Supply 11 to 3. The winners were led by Joe Kusibab with three hits in four tries and 3 RBI's and Randy Luczak 2-for-2 and a pair of RBI's. Dave Pichan also collected a pair of hits. Ray Muck allowed eight hits in gaining the win.

Kerr Mfg. Co. ended its five-game losing streak with a pair of wins during the weeks action. Tuesday Kerr squeezed by Cue Corners 4 to 3 led by Greg Crawford's 3 for 4 and a strong pitching performance by Dave Maculski.

Maculski was tough again, limiting Romulus Press Repair to three hits as Kerr won its second game 5 to 1. Kerr scored three in the first inning as John Goubis was safe on a bobble, Greg Crawford and Dane Deumille singled, Don Mihalack lifted a sacrifice fly and Russ Nelson knocked in the third run of the inning with a single.

RIGHT ON TARGET—There is a new home in the Lincoln Bowmen Archery Club's future. Among dignitaries on hand for the ground-breaking ceremonies at 26245 King Rd., in Brownstown Township, Romulus were (left to right) Mary Globke, vice president LBAC, Larry Kittle, president LBAC, Mrs. Henry Redman, wife of Township supervisor, Bob Nicolli, board member and building commission member, Rose Legg, Emoke Massel, Evelyn Davey, Charles Woodruff, Nelson Gomoll, June Bourassa, Steve Berecz, Phil La Belle, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Meldrum, Ed Horvath, and Mary Long.

Archers build home

The Lincoln Bowmen Archery Club's new facility came one step closer to becoming a reality last week as a host of area dignitaries were on hand for ground-breaking ceremonies in Brownstown Township, Romulus.

The building, which will go up at the approximate cost of $50,000 is to be located on King Rd., in Brownstown Township, Romulus.

The Lincoln Bowmen, founded in 1946, owns the 40 acres in the Brownstown Township, and the new structure will house indoor and outdoor ranges as well as club house facilities.

The bowmen's club is presently made up of about 50 family memberships and members enjoy the privileges of shooting on several different types of ranges. There also are camping and picnic facilities.

"We have been dreaming of an indoor range and club house," said Evelyn Davey, a member of the club, "and that dream appears well on its way of coming true."

The Lincoln Bowmen Archery Club is the home of one of five Michigan State Outdoor championships. In May of 1973, Lincoln will be the host club for the Ann Marston Memorial Tournament.

Archers from the entire state travel to shoots. Tournaments consist of shooting distances from 20 to 65 yards.

Among the host of visiting dignitaries who were present at the ground-breaking ceremonies were members of the Brownstown Township Board, Mrs. Henry Redman, representing her husband who is the Brownstown Supervisor. Mrs. Redman, aided by Larry Kittle, Lincoln Bowmen Archery Club president, turned the first shovel of dirt to begin the project.

Also among the dignitaries were Clayton Meldrum, Director of Public Building and safety, representing the Mayor of Romulus, Lewis Mahalski, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, president; Rex Schmeiler, area supervisor of Wayne County, with the Department of Natural Resources, Warren Kendall, also of DNR.

Kendall is the head of the training of hunter-safety clinic instructors; Don Dwyer, archery-coordinator with the hunter-safety program and Ed Horvath, administrative Chief Inspector with Brownstown Township.

East's Carver picked as Coach of the Year

It has been an upward climb for Garden City East head tennis coach John Carver.

And the way hasn't been easy.

Carver, who has been coaching tennis at the high school for 11 years, managed to carve out an 8-4 won-lost season and he accomplished this on facilities "which have been a thorn in my sides."

Carver, 41, is hopeful that the school administration will soon erect tennis courts that "will be playable on."

"Our facilities have been a thorn in my side," he said. "You couldn't believe the condition that some of these courts are in. Hopefully, something will be done about them soon."

Meanwhile, Carver carries on. His Panthers, with only two seniors in its lineup, managed to stay in the Mid-Wayne Conference title picture, registered its best overall tennis record and appears to have a bright future.

The veteran East coach has been named as 1972 coach of the Year by the sports staff.

"Tennis is growing at a rapid pace," said Carver, "and we must keep up. Without the necessary facilities and equipment we will fall far behind."

Carver had a lot of praise for this year's Panther team. "They're the best bunch of boys I have ever coached," he said. "They were fired up all year long and I can't say enough about them. They were fantastic."

Losing but two seniors,

JOHN CARVER

Carver looks forward to the coming year when the high school will compete in the Northwest Suburban Conference. They are replacing Birmingham Groves. Groves dropped out at the end of the recently concluded season.

A 1958 graduate of Hillsdale College, Carver teaches sixth grade at Burger.

A strong fundamentalist, Carver stresses the basics of the game very thoroughly because, "in the long run a player who has been drilled correctly in the fundamentals is a much more solid and consistent player."

"It really pays off to know the fundamentals," Carver pointed out.

He also sees the Northwest Suburban as a league with better competition to offer.

"And I'm all for it. 'I want to play tough competition. That's one of the best ways to learn the game,' he added.

West Willow victor

West Willow School captured the team championship in the Belleville Elementary Schools track and field meet at the Belleville High School track Saturday.

West Willow totaled 118 points while Quirk finished second with 101.

Edgemont was third with 93, followed by Sumpter (63½), Haggerty (38), Denton (29), and Rawsonville (24).

Herbert Coates of West Willow was the individual standout as he won four first place ribbons in the fifth grade boys division. He placed first in the 50 and 100 yard dashes and was also a member of the winning 440 and 200 yard shuttle relay teams.

Angela Moody of Quirk finished first in three events in the fifth grade girls division. She won the 50, 100, and 220 yard dashes.

West Willow placed first in both the fifth grade girls and boys competitions.

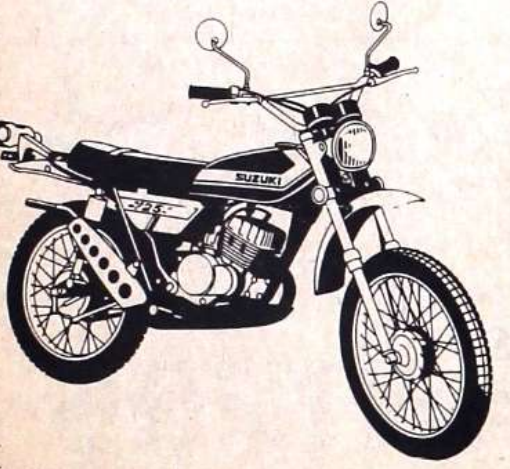

Edgemont was first in the sixth grade boys division and tied for first with Sumpter in the sixth grade girls division.

Ribbons were presented to the first three finishers in each event. Trophies were presented to the overall team champion and to the team winner in each division.

The meet was co-sponsored by the Belleville Track Club and the Van Buren Township Recreation Department.

Band mothers present picnic pops awards

The Belleville Band Mothers Association has presented awards to Belleville school students for their effort in selling Band Bucks for the association's second annual picnic pops. The event was recently held on the football field at the Belleville High School.

First prize of $10 was presented to Ann Sherry, Edgemont Elementary School; Marti Whitmer, North Junior High School, and Brian Shephard, Belleville High School.

Second prize of $5 was presented to Paul Frisch, Edgemont Elementary School, Ray Liebler, South Junior High School, and Linda Amerman, Belleville High School.

Third prize of $3 was presented to David Stamper, Edgemont Elementary School and Carla Bullard, Quirk Road Elementary School, who both tied for third place in the elementary level, Deanna Holcomb, North Junior High School, and Charlotte Whitmer, Belleville High School.

Picnic Pops was a "very successful" affair, sponsors reported. The money raised from the sale of the hot dogs, pop, popcorn and baked goods, will be used to provide music scholarships in various forms, private lessons, summer music camps, etc.

This summer, 29 students from the elementary, junior and high school levels will take lessons to further their music training with the cost of instruction to be paid by the Band Mothers Association, amounting to approximately $500.

Approximately 250 young people applied for these scholarships, but the amount of money available to the association limited the number of students.

The Band Mothers Association would like to express its appreciation to all who supported the various activities of the past year. This was the first full year of activity for the group.

Next year the association hopes to continue to support the instrumental music program in the schools and is planning many activities to support interest in band music.

Salvation Army camp opens soon

The Salvation Army Echo Grove Camp will open its 51st season June 26 with a Music Camp. Eligible youngsters will receive expert instruction in voice, brass instruments and leadership.

Other camping programs include a camp for senior citizens, a teen camp, a family camp, Girl Scouts and Scout Camp, Boys' Camp and a camp for the visually handicapped.

Many moving experiences take place at Echo Grove. Blind people learn to swim, old people are a glow as they make new friends, youngsters realize what it means to live in the great outdoors.

Holding a colonial bouquet of white daisies, red rose buds and baby's breath, the bride walked up the aisle with her father. A full-length Spanish mantilla of Chantilly lace complimented her bouffant gown which carried out the Spanish look with its skirt of lace tiers, jewel neckline, and long, buttoned sleeves.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Jean Van Dine of Taylor appeared in a blue flocked nylon gown in the empire mode and a matching blue picture hat. Her yellow daisy mums, blue tinted carnations, baby's breath, and ferns were arranged in a white straw basket.

Mrs. Judy Genaw of Riverview, another sister; Judy Brent of Taylor; Kathy Isler of Romulus; and the junior attendant, Susan Salajan, sister of the bride, were identically dressed for their roles as bridesmaids.

YOUNG REBECCA Salajan, eight, and Kenneth Salajan, six, were flowergirl and ringbearer, respectively, for their sister. Rebecca wore a large chiffon bow in her hair but, otherwise, was dressed the same as the senior attendants.

Best man was Kenneth Parker of Romulus. Others on the esquire side were Tom Block of Allen Park; Mike Derwinski of Dearborn Heights, brother of the bridegroom; George Salajan, brother of the bride; Don Hatten of Romulus; and Doug Salajan of Romulus, another brother.

Mrs. Salajan selected for the occasion a long blue chiffon dress accented with beading and crystals around the neckline and cuffs while the bridegroom's mother was in a formal gown of green and beige. Both added harmonizing carnation corsages to their outfits.

Hawaii and West Coast chosen for honeymoon

Seven days in Hawaii and four in San Francisco were the honeymoon plans made by Pamela Eulaine Rexin and Gary Lee Anguilm prior to their wedding June 9 at St. David's Catholic Church in Detroit. On their return, they plan to make their home in Allen Park.

Miss Rexin, daughter of the Gilbert Rexins of 12733 Rosemary, Detroit, became Mrs. Anguilm in a six thirty ceremony attended by 90 close friends and relatives. The Rev. Pasquale Lagrasso presided at the double ring nuptials.

Escorted to the sanctuary by her father, the bride was gown in ivory silk organza over ivory taffeta. The Victorian mode creation was fashioned with leg of mutton sleeves trimmed in cluny lace and the oval insert on the little fitted bodice was made of Venice lace with a lace-trimmed choker neckline.

Her elbow-length veil of ivory silk organza was held by a satin looped bow accented with seed pearl flowers. Completing her bridal finery was a bouquet of off-white and pale orange sweetheart roses, stephanotis, baby's breath, and ivy.

MRS. ROBERT KING of St. Clair Shores served as honor attendant with Wendy Houldsworth of Birmingham; Joy Krause of Mt. Clemens; Patricia Christenson of Detroit; and Patrice Rexin, the bride's sister, forming the bevy of bridesmaids.

Wearing identical ensembles, the group appeared in floor-length frocks of Venice lace over green taffeta and Nile green voile with the long lace sleeves banded in ruffles. They wore orange, gold and rust daisies in their hair and carried similar bouquets of gerbers interspersed with baby's breath.

Nine-year old Renee Sterner as flowergirl donned a puffed sleeved green voile dress with Venice lace around the cuffs, on the bodice and neckline. The basket she carried was filled with harmonizing flowers.

Another nine-year old, James Anguilm, carried out the duties of ringbearer.

THE REV. JAMES KIECKER-Detroit, 842-1624

Lynne Orr is spring bride of Gary Vaughn

The First Baptist Church of Wayne was reserved May 13 for the evening ceremony which united Lynne E. Orr and Gary C. Vaughn in holy matrimony. The Rev. Marvin L. Lubenow presided at the double ring rite at seven thirty with some 300 guests in attendance.

Parents of the young couple are Bellevillites Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Orr of 45415 Harmony Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Vaughn of 45011 Robson Road.

For the spring rite the altar was appointed with three centerpieces comprised of white pom pon and daisy mums and pink gladiolas as well as tall lighted tapers.

ESCORTED UP the aisle by her father, Lynne appeared in an ivory satin creation which she had designed and her mother had made. Styled in toe-touching length, the softly-gathered skirt had a lace apron effect at the front. The empire bodice, fashioned with an oval neckline trimmed in ivory lace and rose pink ribbon, had long, sheer, puffy sleeves.

Her veil of ivory silk illusion, caught to a headpiece of satin, lace and ribbons, was bordered with ribbon-inserted lace and cascaded into chapel length.

Completing her bridal finery was an arm bouquet of pink snapdragons and baby's breath tied with pink and mint-colored ribbons.

PATTY RITCHIE came from Michigan State University to be honor attendant at her best friend's wedding. Her pale pink nylon frock was designed in the empire mode with long, full sleeves and ivory lace accents on the lifted bodice.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rose Keilhacker from Wayne; Brenda Vaughn, the bridegroom's sister; Luanne Smith, who came from Kalamazoo College; and Jan Renton of Belleville, (the latter two being close school friends of the bride.)

Their mint green nylon gowns had short, puffed sleeves with two satin bows centering the wide cuffs. The same satin ribbon traced the high-rise bodices which were made of embroidered white nylon flowers. The ribbon and embroidery pattern also formed high stand-up necklines on the A-line dresses.

All the attendants wore ivory picture hats with soft brims and ribbons to match their gowns encircling the crowns and streaming down the back. All five also held white satin and lace fans accented with pink snapdragons and baby's breath.

THE BRIDEGROOM asked his father to be best man. Others on the esquire side were Leon Varney of Belleville; William Ford of Garden City; Douglas Hefty of Pontiac; and Larry Orr, the bride's brother.

Following the ceremony Mrs. Orr received in a floor-length gown of bright pink polyester knit fashioned with long sleeves and gold braid at the neckline and wrists. The bridegroom's mother donned a long-sleeved pale pink gown with a brocade design in the fabric and ivory lace edging the neck and sleeves. Both mothers were presented with pink cymbidium orchids.

The guests later gathered in the church hall for a buffet supper and the cutting of the wedding cake.

THE NEWLYWEDS honeymooned for a week at Crystal Lake and are now making their home at 24418 Haskell, Apt. 72, Taylor.

Both Lynne and Gary graduated from Belleville High School, she in 1971 and he a year earlier. He is currently employed by Norfolk and Western Railway at the River Rouge Bridge in Detroit.

Prior to the wedding, the Harry Vaughns reserved the Gibraltar Room at the Ramada Inn near Romulus for the wedding rehearsal dinner.

Methodist chorusters given pins

The younger set of the First United Methodist Church of Belleville was honored for its service with the church choir Sunday, June 11.

The following Cherub Choir members received their first-year pins: Tammy Curtis, Shawn Ferguson, Shari Ferguson, Susan Kohr, Janet Harris, Sandy Kohr, and Donna Ferguson.

Certificates for two years or more went to Penny Ashe, Ben Griffith, Sally Henderson, Cindy Fitch, Chris Griffith, Jane Kause, and Holly Fitch.

Next Sunday, June 18, Junior Choir pins for one year will be awarded to Gail Conley, Sheryl Jones, Leslie Ferguson, Jeff Kohr, and Lisa Ray. Nancy Payne will be presented with a two-year certificate.

Dalton-Ferstle wed in Flat Rock church

Among the early June brides this season was Terri Lou Ferstle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ferstle of 1922 Will Carleton Drive, Flat Rock. In a six o'clock ceremony June 3 at the Flat Rock First United Church, she became the wife of Michael Ray Dalton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dalton of 19433 Wahrman Road, New Boston.

The Rev. R.D. Carter presided at the double ring rite with Mrs. Nelson Brown at the organ to accompany soloist Ronald Carter, Jr.

Entering the church with her father, the bride appeared in a toe-touching creation of white silk organza designed in the empire mode. Styling details included a ribbed bodice enhanced with bands of ruffled lace which were repeated on the long sleeves and high, stand-up collar. A double flounce ruffle at the hemline drifted into a chapel-length train as she walked.

A CAMELOT HEADPIECE of ruffled lace, seed pearls and a satin bow secured her three-tiered veil of bridal illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, baby's breath, and forget-me-nots.

The bridal coterie, headed by honor attendant Diane Gall, a classmate from New Boston, included Mrs. Norman McAtee of Flat Rock, an aunt; Karen Nichols, another classmate from Flat Rock; and Annette Dalton of New Boston, sister of the bridegroom.

Identically styled, their floor-length frocks of pink voile had V-shaped bibs on the bodices with tucked voile and narrow lace edged in wide ruffled lace as accents. Satin bands traced the high-rise waistlines with the lace motif carried out on the long sleeves.

Complimenting their gowns were white picture hats encircled with pink ribbon and bouquets of red and pink roses, carnations, and baby's breath.

MIKE BROWN of Romulus was asked to be best man and ushers were Tom Ferstle, brother of the bride; Steve Pichan, a classmate from New Boston; and Doug Dalton, brother of the bridegroom.

At the reception and dinner which followed in the Fellowship Hall, the bride's mother received in a light pink dress to which she pinned her corsage of pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath. The bridegroom's mother chose a pale blue ensemble and was presented with a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, the newlyweds took up residence in Flat Rock.

Both young people are graduates of Huron High School's class of 1971 and both are employed at the Browns-town plant of the Ford Motor Company. The bride attended Central Michigan University for a year. Her husband is serving with the Michigan Air National Guard.

Improvements bill approved by State Senate

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The expensive siding job you got on the house last year is falling to pieces. But the contractor sold your contract to a bank and left town.

You're left with shoddy siding and a bank debt?

Not under a bill passed 29-5 by the Senate Wednesday and returned to the House with minor amendments.

Under the bill, which covers all home improvements, you could stop all future payments on the work if you prove you didn't get your money's worth, or force the bank to have the work done over.

Michigan's current "holder-in-due-course" law offers homeowners little protection, lawmakers said. If the original builder has sold your contract to a bank and refuses to make good his work, you must continue to pay the bank.

In addition to protecting homeowners, the bill would "make banks think twice about giving credit to fly-by-night operators," said the measure's Senate sponsor, Jack Faxon (D-Detroit).

"Whoever holds the contract will have to make it good. We're trying to assure the public that home improvements are, indeed improvements."

IMPROVE YOUR HOME

Don't be caught short during tag sale days

By VIVIAN BROWN

If you are being indoctrinated into the summer tag sale circuit, you may have a lot of catching up to do. In the 10 years tag sales have been popular, everybody but everybody has become an expert.

It is getting difficult to pick up real bargains, unless you are there when the doors open. At one recent sale in three rooms of a small house, all the good things had been selected within five minutes. Some people arrived with washing baskets or cardboard boxes, so things could be swooped up. When doors are opened, the prizes go to the sprinters.

One dealer made a decision that might have been difficult for the average housewife equipped only with her weekly marketing money. He paid $150 for a 200-piece set of limoge dinnerware, commenting that he could sell it for at least $2,000. The set included an enormous tureen with bowed finial in perfect condition.

The pleasurable part of most tag sales is that you can pick up some little thing for a few pennies. An old saucer that might be used for an ashtray or a sugar bowl bottom that might hold an African violet will make you feel that the bargain hunt hasn't been a total loss.

These tips might provide pointers for those who are traveling the sale circuits for the first time:

If the sale has been itemized in an advertisement, make a list of things that interest you. If items have not been advertised, get an idea of what you can use before you go to the sale. If you are furnishing a vacation house, a house sale is the ideal place to find kitchenware, picnic tables, garage tools, furniture. Slightly used upholstered furniture may be found at a fraction of original cost.

When you arrive at the sale, go to the area that has the thing you want. Time can be wasted browsing. For example, if you want a sofa, don't fiddle around in the kitchen examining the jelly jars and pie pans. Go to the living room.

If you don't find what you want, don't buy something just because it is there. Basements are loaded with such "treasures." You might wish to snap up a good buy to replace something you now own. One woman found an excellent Chinese Chippendale occasional table for $18. How could she pass it up! (Her husband told her how.)

Baskets are the new "in" item and prices have escalated in many areas where shops are springing up devoted entirely to the sale of baskets. But you can still find some that are budget-priced and these can be used for many things from plant holders to bread baskets.

Large flat intricately worked baskets may be used on the wall for decoration.

Old-fashioned washbowl sets are used as tableware, especially for parties. Large quantities of spaghetti, potato salad or greens can go into a washbowl. The matching soap dish, toothbrush holder and pitcher can be used for little extras.

In areas where old houses are being razed to make way for new roads, tag sales may be a bonanza of fine old chandeliers, leaded windows, handsome door locks, antique fixtures, balustrades and newel posts (that can be turned into lamp bases).

Tops and bottoms of things may be useful even though one part is broken. One woman bought a beautiful bisque container because the beautifully carved top of angelic figures was in perfect condition. It is a decoration in her bathroom.

People buy tops of old bridal chests for wall decorations. Bottoms of chests and boxes may be put to good use as containers, for wood, pins, matches. The use it is put to depends on the size.

You can even get the man of the family in a good mood with a gift from such a sale—and this may make your tag sale browsing easier in the future. One man was ecstatic with an old copper worm carrier that was attached to a worn leather belt. No, he wouldn't use it for worms—it would make a great ash-tray conversational piece for his desk, he said. And that's how you can get a man started on the tag sale circuit.

Another man was the lucky recipient of a fish-base lamp which cost his wife only $2. The investment was worth hundreds to her in future purchases, she said.

Here's the answer

By ANDY LANG

Q — There is a section of a cold water pipe in our house that leaks. I have patched it three times now. It lasts a few weeks, then leaks again. I would like to replace that part of the pipe. I did a similar repair some years ago, but remember that I had a very difficult time trying to get the new piece of pipe to fit. Can you help me? By the way, it's ordinary galvanized pipe, not copper or brass.

A — Actually, this is a job for a plumber. However, if the regulations in your community do not forbid replacement of a section of water pipe, you should be able to handle it. The trick is to use two pieces of pipe, not one. After shutting off the water, cut the damaged pipe with a hacksaw anywhere from 4 to 6 inches from a joint. Unscrew the short length of this pipe, using two pipe wrenches, one for holding, one for turning. Then unscrew the long length from the other joint.

Take the two pieces to a dealer and explain to him what you want. He will give you two pieces of new pipe, plus a union. One length of pipe is screwed into one joint and the union added to the open end. Screw in the other piece of pipe, then bring the two lengths together with the union. You know, of course, that all threads should be coated with pipe compound before the connections are made.

Q — I just finished varnishing a table top. There are tiny, almost invisible bubbles on it. What caused this? What can I do?

A — It appears that you stirred the varnish, either before or while using it. Varnish should not be shaken or stirred. Sand down the surface, not to the bare wood but just enough to remove the bubbles. Revarnish.

Q — To settle an argument, how far should the base of a long ladder be from the bottom part of the house when it is set up for painting?

A — The rule-of-thumb is that the distance from the foot of the ladder to the house should be one-fourth the length of the ladder. With a 20-foot ladder, this would mean a distance of 5 feet. Just as important as the distance is the placement of the ladder on solid ground. If the ground is soft, place a solid board under the feet of the ladder. Then stand on the first rung of the ladder and bounce on it a few times to be sure the ladder doesn't shift position. On concrete or similar ground, the feet of the ladder should have rubber treads or what is called a "safety" base.

Army develops special enlistment bonus plan

The U.S. Army has announced a special bonus plan for young men enlisting in certain careers in the infantry, armor and artillery. The plan calls for payment of $1,500 for a four-year enlistment. The bonus is payable in full following successful completion of basic and advanced training. This normally occurs about four months after enlistment, depending on the career field selected.

Men with prior service are eligible for the bonus plan if they have less than three years active service, have not previously received a reenlistment bonus and meet certain other requirements.

Besides professional training, young men in the bonus plan also will be eligible to volunteer for the widest range of enlistment travel options ever offered by the Army. These include guaranteed assignments in Europe, Alaska, Hawaii, Far East and Panama, as well as units of choice in different parts of the United States.

The Army now starts enlisted men at $288 a month, with increases following basic training. It also continues to offer the traditional benefits of free meals, housing, clothing medical and dental care, along with 30 paid vacation days a year.

This offer may be changed or discontinued at any time depending on Army manpower requirements. Local quotas will be limited.

For further information on the new bonus plan, call Sgt. Ron Ames at the Military Counseling Office, Wayne Post Office, 3716 Newberry St., Wayne, or 722-3388.

Bureau conducts survey

How many children do married women expect to have within the next five years? Will they average the same number as in the recent past?

Answers to these questions will indicate the future growth and composition of the nation's population, data vital to planners both in government and private business.

Robert G. McWilliam, director of the Bureau of the Census Data Collection Center in Detroit, has announced information on birth expectations will be collected during the week of June 19-23 from a sample of households in this area.

The questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is confidential and results are used only to compile statistical totals. The law safeguarding the confidentiality of information applies to surveys as well as major censuses conducted by the Bureau of the Census.

Shut-in mass slated June 24

St. Aloysius Catholic Church, located at 11280 Ozga Rd., Romulus, will hold an outdoor mass for shut-ins at noon on Saturday, June 24.

Anyone wishing to attend - senior citizens, chronic shut-ins, heart patients, disabled and particularly handicapped children of any denomination, are welcomed.

Those attending the Mass are requested to drive their cars or bus behind the St. Aloysius garage and set up wheelchairs, etc., in a designated area. Regular chairs will be set up for those able to use them.

Moose lodge launches fire safety drive

Belleville Lodge 934 of the Loyal Order of Moose has launched an all-out fire window sticker safety project in the communities of Belleville and Van Buren Township.

George Manley, governor of the Belleville Lodge 934, together with L.W. Barnes and William Palmer of the lodge's civic affairs committee, reported it would cooperate with both the local fire and police departments of both communities in sponsoring the fire window sticker safety project.

In an effort to eliminate needless loss of life in home fires, the local Moose Lodge is providing luminescent window stickers to the public without cost. These reflecting red stickers are to be placed on the window of any bedroom wherein there might be an invalid, convalescent, infirm or aged person or very young children. The fire department is fully aware of the use of these reflective stickers.

In the event of a fire call to any residential building, spotlights will be flashed upon all windows of the home, and when one of these stickers is noticed, that room will be investigated to determine if evacuation is required.

The use of the 4 1/2-inch square red sticker will materially cut down searching time by firemen and rescue squads during an emergency, and will thereby help to expedite rescue operations and practically eliminate fatalities due to smoke inhalation, sponsors report.

To get these fire safety stickers, contact the Belleville Lodge 934, or the police and fire departments of Belleville and Van Buren Township.

ATTEST:

REFERENDUM: Within forty five (45) days after the publication of any ordinance duly passed by the Council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance continuing in effect. Said petition shall contain the text of such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six (6 percent) percent of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. NIFODORA ELIAS Eloise Congdon, art teacher at the high school, and she assisted teacher Harold Sole in art exploration.

Nifi's major goal is to become a famous artist. When her painting of roses was sold for $180, all she could say was, "You're kidding me!"
